

VOL. 84, NO. 229.

ST. LOUIS, FRIDAY, APRIL 22, 1932.

CAR MEN'S UNION
ASKS P. S. CO. TO WITHDRAW ORDER
TO CUT PAY 10 PCT.

Sends Note Offering to Meet Company Officials
"In Honest Effort" to Adjust This Controversy Amicably.

SEEKS TO AVOID HALTING SERVICE

Points Out Fares Have Not Been Lowered—Refers to Stanley Clarke's "Chronicle" Demand for Reduction of Wages.

The Street Car Men's Union today requested the Public Service Commission to withdraw its notice of a second reduction of 10 per cent in employees' wages. It offered to meet company officials "in further conference in an honest effort to amicably adjust this controversy."

In order that there be no disruption in service caused by street car disputes.

Harry M. Nelson, union president, in his letter to President Stanley Clarke of the Public Service Commission, referred to Clarke's recent editorial in the "Chronicle" on wage reduction as "your 'chronic' demand for termination of contract and wage reduction."

The union president writes that the union has no objection to the company's demand for a "serious
reduction in wages."

The union pointed out that the People's Motor Bus Co., has made an effort to reduce wages, although employees receive a higher rate of pay than street car men.

The union pointed out that the
street car company had 85 per cent of the city's transportation business, and that the State Public Service Commission had granted
a rate of fare sufficient to pay employees their wage rates as of June 1, 1929.

Nelson's letter to Clarke follows:
"Your letter of April 19, 1932,
received. We note your 'chronic'
demand for termination of contract, also a 10 per cent reduction in present wages of all employees.
Only six months have elapsed since the company under an award by a board of wage arbitrators was granted a 10 per cent reduction in wages of all employees effective Oct.
1, 1931.

"A further reduction of 10 per cent would bring the wage of all employees to a point lower than we received under a Federal receiver
when the rates of fare were 6 and 8 cents. We believe that neither the company nor the public consider your company serious in the outstanding demand for a further reduction in wages.

"The People's Motor Bus Co., under the efficient management of Col. A. T. Perkins (former manager for the Federal receiver of the United Railway Co.), has continued its contract with employees,
with no attempt to reduce wages,
although the employees of the People's Motor Bus Co. are at present receiving a higher rate of pay than the employees of the Public Service Commission has been made possible by the management devoting their ability to operating a transportation system that pleases their patrons.

"Demand Is Without Merit."
"With wage reductions already in effect amounting to almost $1,000,
a year, and with other relief,
such as reduction in taxes and other economic methods in effect, such as less mileage and one-man car operation, and the reduction in cost of all material and supplies, with these savings we believe your intention of a wage reduction is wholly without merit.

"Your company is, according to your annual report as of Dec. 31, 1931, enjoying a privilege that co-
other industry in this city enjoys;
namely, that of doing 85 per cent
of all the business in their particular industry.

"Your company was granted a rate of fare by the Public Service Commission sufficient to pay the
employees their wage rates as of June, 1929. We received a reduction of 10 per cent in our rates of fare Oct. 16, 1931, and now you ask for an additional reduction of 10 per cent with no change in the rate of fare granted by the Public Service Commission.

ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE
WILLING TO SUBMIT
PROHIBITION TO REFERENDUM

F. Scott McBride for Plan if Constitution Is Changed to Permit Popular Initiative and Vote on All Amendments.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, April 22.—F.
Scott McBride, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, today proclaimed on behalf of the dry forces willingness to meet the wets in a prohibition referendum if the Constitution is first amended to permit all future changes to be made by popular vote in the states.

In a statement issued following his return from a Western trip, Mc-Bride pronounced "the one real referendum proposed down to date," a plan under which the Constitution would be amended to permit that in future by majority vote
in two-thirds of the states, the people could initiate amendments
making it mandatory on Congress to submit the proposals to popular vote in the states, ratification being by three-fourths of the states.

"We challenge the wets," he said,
"to meet this issue by referendum
under this method, which would be a process under constitutional Government. The attitude of the wets as to this proposition will determine their sincerity."

Former Chairman Butler for G. O. P. Resubmission Plank.
By the Associated Press.
BOSTON, April 22.—William M.
Butler, former United States Senator, yesterday declared in favor of a plank in the Republican national platform calling for a referendum on prohibition.

Butler is a former chairman of the National Republican Committee and he managed the campaign of Calvin Coolidge for the presidency. He is an unopposed candidate for delegate-at-large to the national convention, pledged to President Hoover.

In his declaration, Butler said:
"I see no harm, but a great deal
of good, to come from resubmission. . . . I do not see how it should embarrass the President.
The present discussion of prohibition, I believe, is doing more to upset the country than anything else."

Butler said that in the past he had stood for prohibition because he was a party man and would not embarrass the party or take part in splitting it by opposing prohibition.

"However, I did say that I was not in favor of the amendment
when adopted, and notwithstanding the excellent things which have come about by reason of national prohibition, I do not believe any more than I did originally that it is properly a subject for national control," he added.

With the arrest last night of two men, one of them an insurance agent, police think they have broken up a plot to kill Virgil Martin, 5096 Minerva avenue, for whom several insurance companies have written accident and life policies in the last two months totaling $48,000.

Detectives Fabick and Hummert
went to Martin's home last night
and told him they had heard reports that he was to be sent to Kansas City next week with a truckload of liquor and that the truck was to be attacked on the way, and Martin killed.

Martin told them that about two months ago, when looking for work,
he was introduced to a bootlegger
who offered him a job, but suggested that the work was risky and that he should have some insurance.

Martin agreed, and under several names he obtained policies from various companies, the bootlegger paying the premiums and being named as the beneficiary in all except two policies. These provided that $3000 was to be paid to Martin's wife in the event of his death and $5000 to his estate.

In all nine policies were written several provisions for insurance, but the bootlegger was considered a legitimate business transaction. The bootlegger would make no statement.

The search grew into a man-
hunt. Detectives Charles Hallett
and Joseph Clotte saw wet foot-
prints of a man wearing basketball
shoes on a sidewalk and traced
them to a parked automobile in front of 5154 Kingsbury avenue.
Seated in the automobile and puffing from recent exertion was an athletic young man with a shock of curly brown hair. He was preparing to put on his clothing over a pair of blue shorts and a white athletic shirt.

The detectives dragged him out of the machine but were unable to hold onto his perspiring arms. After they had knocked him down once, he broke away and dashed out of sight between nearby houses.

About 10 minutes later, John Becherer, a former city detective, of 5154 Washington avenue, saw an undressed young man climb in a window of the locked garage in the rear of his home. He telephoned the police dispatcher. Directed by radio, police squads swooped down on their quarry.

From under Becherer's automobile came a fearful voice. "Please don't kill me. I've got a family to support. I've got four kids. I had to do this to make a living."

Police pulled the culprit out from under the machine. His scanty clothing was covered with water and grease, his knees skinned by a fall on the sidewalk. He wept when taken to Police Headquarters.
The dingly cap and the lad
clung to the keel while his father, who was a strong swimmer, struck out for shore. After swimming about 50 yards he disappeared.

Scott was the son of the famous

Edward Taylor Scott was 48
years old and a native of Manchester, and had been editor of the Guardian since 1929. After his

and the London School of Economics, he became private secre-

ney Oliver, Governor of Jamaica, and retained that post from 1907
until 1909.

'SHORTS BURGLAR'
CAUGHT, ADMITS
MANY ROBBERIES

Captured After 50 Policemen Are Called by Radio to Join in Hunt in the West End.

AT FIRST INSISTS HE IS ONLY AN IMITATOR

Breaks Down and Confesses, However, When He Is Shown Fingerprints
From Earlier Job.

A strapping young man in a greasy athletic shirt, soiled blue shorts and basketball shoes was hauled out from under an automobile in a West End garage early today and tearfully admitted to the large squad of police which was surrounding him that he was a
"shorts burglar."

At first he denied being the only young man in such abbreviated clothing who has been climbing into bedroom windows in more than 100 St. Louis homes, but later admitted numerous burglaries of that sort since last October. In addition he implicated another young man who, when arrested, is said to have admitted engaging with him in a series of holdups.

The "shorts burglar" said he was John Eaves, 21 years old, of 4108 Botanical avenue, a former athlete at McKinley High School and a basketball player with the team of G Company, 138th Infantry, Missouri National Guard,
in which he is a Sergeant.

More than 50 policemen in radio cars congregated in the district near 6173 Waterman avenue, shortly after 4 a. m., when Mrs. George K. Mathews telephoned that "the shorts burglar" had just leaped out of her bedroom window after her screams had frightened him away.

Since last Saturday, when the burglar entered an apartment in the building at 3540 Wyoming
street where Chief of Police Gerk lives, officers had doubled their efforts to catch the offender. Sirens sounded as scout cars as far away as Grand boulevard and Mer-amec street converged in the West End.

Footprints Are Traced.
The police had searched hardly 15 minutes when Miss Virginia Irwin, 5152 McPherson avenue, telephoned that the man had been in her bedroom. Miss Irwin said she awoke to find the thinly clad intruder sitting on the side of her bed. When she screamed, she told police, he "climbed over the window
like a monkey," taking with him
an empty purse and a bankbook.
She said he drove away in an automobile.

The search grew into a man-
hunt. Detectives Charles Hallett
and Joseph Clotte saw wet foot-
prints of a man wearing basketball
them to a parked automobile in

WASHINGTON, April 22.—Matthew C. Brush, who used to be a newspaper reporter and hotel clerk
and is now the millionaire head of the American International Corporation, a New York investment bank, described his extensive stock market operations with remarkable candor today before the Senate Banking and Currency Committee.

The forthright Brush, with his stock market slang and his rough-
and-ready air, made a striking contrast with the previous witness—
the suave Richard Whitney, head of the New York Stock Exchange, who had given the committee, in four days of testimony, a word picture of impeccable manners and methods on the exchange.

Percy Rockefeller took the stand
after the noon recess of the committee. Questions put to him dealt particularly with his syndicate operations in the exchange.

He said he had taken "terrific"
losses since 1929 and had engaged in short selling in an effort to reduce them.

Brush so charmed the committee by his frankness that several of its members, including Senator Brookhart, the Iowa insurgent,
crowded about him to offer thanks
and congratulations.

After Money in a Big Way.
Brush made no bones about being in a big way. During the boom market he was on the long side, and when his judgment told him, in the spring of 1929, that stocks
were due for a decline, he had no hesitation in building up a large short interest.

But the life of a bear, he said
with an ungrudging candor, was always a bed of roses; there were times during market rallies when a bear had a "dog-gone" hard time sleeping at night.

Records before the committee
show that on April 8 Brush was short 1000 shares of Woolworth, 2000 du Pont, 1500 American Can,
1000 American Telephone & Telegraph, 1000 Bethlehem Steel, 1000 Westinghouse Electric, 1000 United States Steel, 2000 General Motors and 500 International Harvest-er.

Brush several times gave testimony at variance with that of Whitney, and once, in so doing, he suggested that the committee
ought to "buy him a ticket down south" so that he wouldn't have to go back to New York and face
his fellow bulls and bears.

Counsel for the committee had never been able to bring Whitney
to the admission that short selling depressed the market. Brush confessed quite frankly that there were times when it did have a depressing effect, at least temporarily, though in the long run there were a "million other factors" that determined the trend.

ATTORNEY INDICTED
FOR ATTEMPT TO BRIBE

Hi Summer Accused of Paying Policeman to Get News of Accidents.

President Williams Approves
Finding of Discipline Group
Following Shooting.

Hi Summer, a lawyer, was arrested today under an indictment charging attempted bribery which was voted yesterday. It alleges he gave $5 to a probationary patrolman for quick information of accidents in the North Market Street Police District which might lead to suits. Summer, who gave bond, is a member of the law firm of Gallant, Harrigan & Summer in the International Office Building, Assistant Circuit Attorney Lennan said. He gave $2500 bail.

The indictment, Lennan related,
charges that Summer gave the money to William Van Horn of 5974 Edna avenue. Van Horn reported Summer's proposal to his superiors and the money was retained as evidence. The charge is punishable, upon conviction, by a fine of $1000, a year in the jail or workhouse, or two to five years in the penitentiary.

Summer could not be reached.

Scott, accompanied by his son,

board his yacht in the lake today.

MISSOURI U. SUSPENDS
16 BECAUSE OF FIGHT

President Williams Approves
Finding of Discipline Group
Following Shooting.

By the Associated Press.
COLUMBIA, Mo., April 22.—Sixteen University of Missouri students were suspended indefinitely
here today for their part in the kidnaping last month of the St.
Pat's Queen and the subsequent fight between engineering and law students in which three were wounded.

The findings of the Discipline Committee of the university have been approved by President Walter Williams.

The name of Burnis Frederick of Union Star, law student who has confessed shooting the three law
students when they attempted to haze him for his part in the kidnaping of Miss Mary Butterfield of Kansas City, the St. Pat's Queen, was not included in the list inasmuch as he withdrew from the university last week. The committee ruled, however, that he may not be readmitted without its consent.

The students suspended are:
Ralph Ambuster of St. Louis, J.
K. Austin of Jefferson City, Jerry Cebal of St. Louis, Richard C. Cunningham of Pattonsburg, Russell
W. Fitch of Ransomville, N. Y., Stanley Ginn of Miller, James Har-stun of Joplin, Bertram Johnson of Pine Bluff, Ark.; Ed Legg of Monroe City, Charles Love of Jefferson City, Raymond McGill of Odesse, Arthur Nienhauser of Jefferson City, Max Patten of Columbia, Gerrard Spencer of Columbia, Terry Whitebread of Nevada, and Sam Wilson of Columbia.

It is provided that the students
may be readmitted on application at such time and on such terms as the committee prescribes.

Federal dry agents today arrested an alleged liquor salesman,
known here as "Shorty" of St.
Charles, just outside the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity. Liquor, the officers said, was sold to a member of the fraternity, which is having a formal dinner and dance tonight.

Two cases of gin and a gallon of corn whisky was confiscated.
The dry agents did not go into the fraternity house, nor did they question any of the fraternity members.

tion, and he said there was no distinction, in morals, between bear-
who sought to drive prices down
and the bulls who tried to draw
in the suckers by bidding the market up. He said that the lack of information of the average man in buying stocks was "pathetic."

He agreed with Whitney that the

'SADIE SILK,' 'STELLA STITCH' IN SHORT LIST

Senate Committee Finds Many Accounts in Names of 'Dummies' on Brokers' Records.

MUCH SELLING
FROM ABROAD

Some of This Was Done by Raymond Patenotre,
French Deputy—Holland
and Spain Represented.

Post-Dispatch Bureau, 201-206 Kellouge Bldg.
WASHINGTON, April 22.—Examination of the photographic record of stock accounts on the New York Stock Exchange, as of April 8 last, continued today to reveal to the Senate Banking and Currency committee a large number of names
which members of the committee branded as probably fictitious.

The committee would like to know, for example, whether big bear operators are concealed behind the names of "Sadie Silk" and "Stella Stitch." Both these names were in the records furnished the committee by the stock exchange
in reply to a subpoena.

Sadie's account was handled by the brokerage firm of Duncomb & Co., and Stella operated through D. M. Collins & Co. They were short in Western Union, Electric Power & Light and Hershey Chocolate preferred.

Numerous other women's names appeared. "Lilly Schiff" sold short through Frank B. Cohn & Co., and "Rose Scheer" through D. M. Minton & Co.

At least two stock exchange
members cleared their short sales for the day in question under such designations as "account No. 5" and "account No. 28." Five accounts of this kind were on the books of Dean & Co.

Dean Writing & Co. put through five clearing tickets for the accounts of "Sargent," and the firm of Slaughter, Anderson & Fox reported the sales of Mr. Mrs. or Miss "G. Ok."

Paris Bank Sells Short.
The records showed considerable short selling for foreign account.
One of the largest single orders operations on the short side on April 8 was the sale of 35,000 General Motors for the account of the Travelers Bank of Paris. The bank also was listed as responsible for sizeable short commitments in other leading stocks, including 4200
United States Steel, some A. T. & T., Westinghouse, Mercantile Marine and Lorillard Tobacco.

Another foreign account which attracted the attention of the committee was that of Raymond Paten-otre, identified as a member of the French Chamber of Deputies, who accompanied Premier Laval to Washington last fall. He has open short commitments in North American National Power and Light, Standard Oil of New Jersey and others. Some of his accounts were handled by Post and Flagg and others by Eastman, Dillon and Company.

Patenotre, who maintained a nominal residence in New York City, was granted an abatement of

HOOVER FEARS PAY CUT MAY LOP OFF 50,000 EMPLOYEES

Urges Stagger System Instead as Means of Increasing Force While Saving Money.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, April 22.—
Strongly opposed to proposals for a cut in the salaries of Government employees, President Hoover thinks that, if this course is taken, the "thrust" of staggering employment
through five-day weeks and furloughs without pay, instead of the 11 per cent cut in salaries proposed by the House Economy Committee, will save only $67,000,000,
as against $82,000,000 to be gained
through the stagger plan.

Mr. Hoover feels that a moral and social responsibility rests upon the Government to take care of its employees.

He has been informed that many branches of business and industry have attempted to maintain as great employment as possible
through staggering employment, and thinks the Government should assume leadership in this field.

Further, as he pointed out recently, he feels that a straight pay cut will save only $67,000,000,
as against $82,000,000 to be gained
through the stagger plan.

He feels, also, that the question of a five-day or shortened workweek will be a necessity in the course of the return of business and industry to normalcy.

Under the stagger system of employment, Mr. Hoover thinks, between 25,000 and 50,000 employees can be hired by the Government
in addition to those now employed.

President Hoover is strongly opposed to the policy adopted by the Senate of ordering straight 10 per cent slashes in all appropriations
bills received by it from the House.
The chief executive things such a method represents an unco-ordinated effort to save Federal money and will result inevitably in the dismissal of many workers.

He has in mind the recently approved Interior Department supply bill, under which, he thinks, between 800 and 1000 civil service workers must be discharged. In the same bill is a provision for the continuation of park roads and trails calling for the employment of approximately 1500 contract indians.

Feeling that it is both the moral and social obligation of the Government to provide for civil service workers who have made Government employment their career, the President is deeply opposed to the replacement of regular workers
with contract employees.

A vigorous protest against the proposed 10 per cent cut in Treasury Department appropriations in line with the Senate's policy of cutting all supply bills by that amount was voiced before the Senate Appropriations Committee today by Secretary Miles.

Last year's 10 per cent reduction cut the average annual income of street car operators from $1650 to $1485. If wages of street car men are again reduced 10 per cent, the average annual income will be about $1337.

vances for the first nine months

ous, was shown yesterday in a

Roosevelt Most Available
CANDIDATE, SAYS E. M. HOUSE

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, April 22.—Gov.
Franklin D. Roosevelt was called "the most available man for the Democratic presidential nomination" in a statement from E. M.
House, friend and adviser of President Wilson, which was issued yesterday, by Roosevelt's campaign managers.

He has had unusual opportunities to serve in governmental positions both in his native State and in the nation, and has acquired himself to the satisfaction of his constituents, as may be witnessed by his ever-increasing majorities," House said.

House added he had been acquainted with every President since Grant and that "not one of them had a stronger physique than Gov.
Roosevelt has." He said the only President that equaled Franklin D.
Roosevelt in "both physical and mental prowess" was "this illustrious relative, Theodore Roosevelt."

sale, had operated to prevent
"bear raiding."

But there was nothing, he added,
to keep bulls from bidding the market up to an artificial level.

Brush is a director in many corporations, including the Air Reduction Company, Inc., Aviation Corporation, Brooklyn-Manhattan
Transit Corporation, Empire Trust Company, and the Remington Arms Co., Inc.

Responding to questions by William A. Gray, counsel for the committee, Brush said he was associated with about 50 corporations, whose stocks were traded in on the New York Exchange. He said he had been a market under since the summer of 1921. In 1929 he had a long position of 125,000 shares—probably his greatest long position.

He traded, he said, on both sides of the market, at one time having been about 125,000 shares short.
He had begun as a trader in Hos-
ton in a small way.

In August, 1929, the liquidating
value of his holdings was $15,- 000,000. He did not have short selling till the spring of 1930.

Not a "Scale" Buyer.
Brush said he didn't believe in "scale" buying. He took his position one way or the other as an investment judgment might dictate.

He dealt generally, he said, in pivotal stocks of which there was a good supply.

Dealing in these pivotal stocks
had a "decided effect" on the market as a whole, though it might not control the market.

"Are stocks not affected a great deal by artificial manipulation?"
asked Gray.

Brush said he could not answer
that question by yes or no, but added it was true that stocks could be manipulated.

Brush said that large buying or selling had a "decided effect" on the market.

"I know I'm going to get shot in the back in New York anyway," he said, explaining his frankness.

"All you are doing is making a question," he went on. "It's all the
same whether you are selling milk
bottles or anything else. The law
of supply and demand controls."

"All you are doing is making a
question," he went on. "It's all the
same whether you are selling milk
bottles or anything else. The law
of supply and demand controls."

"I can't qualify as to that," responded Brush, "because that isn't the way I trade."

Sentinel of Oklahoma came into the discussion as a defender
of short selling, using the argument of Whitney that every short sale requires a later purchase by the seller.

The witness observed at one point that "nobody makes money in the market who bucks the trend."

He added later that "anybody
with inside information on a given situation ought to be able to make money out of that information."

"Is there something that is known as rigging the market?"
asked Gray.

The witness replied that certain types of trading might be called "rigging," as for example putting out false information in order to depress a stock.

He was asked whether his investment trust—the American International Corporation—lent stock to short sellers. He said the trust had done so on one or two occasions, but did not make a practice of it. He had heard that sometimes an investment trust engaged in the practice.

Explains Bear Raiding.
Gray recalled Whitney's testimony that there was no such thing as bear raiding. He asked the witness for his views.

"Before the present restrictions
were in effect a man could sell short at a price under the market,
and that would be a bear raid," replied Brush.

He said that it was as bad to put a stock up as it was to sell it at a point down, "because it fools every sucker in the United States."

Tells How Market Can Be Manipulated

How Whitney Maintained the Price
On German Bonds for Morgan Firm

WASHINGTON, April 22.

QUESTIONED yesterday by William A. Gray, counsel for the Senate Banking and Currency committee, about
"padding" the market for German reparations bonds, Richard Whitney, president of the New York Stock Exchange, said his firm had bought $3,200,000 of these bonds for the selling syndicate which the securities were being marketed.

The bonds were floated June 12, 1930, he said, at 90, by a syndicate of 1011 bankers. They
price until the "price agreement of the syndicate" lifted on July 2, he added.

For a period of 18 to 20 days,
Whitney testified, all purchasers could have sold at the purchasing price, he said, "it is a customary method."

"Did you tell the purchasers
you were only going to hold the price up for 18 or 20 days?"
Senator Brookhart (Rep.),
Iowa, asked.

Whitney explained his firm
was not selling the bonds.
Brookhart contended, however, that it was a method of "double-crossing the whole community."

"I see no double-crossing whatever," Whitney retorted.
"It opens the door to a great deal of fraud, doesn't it?" Gray asked.

"No, I don't see any fraud,"
the stock market head replied.

practice, but had no direct knowledge on that point.

Brush said he became a short seller in the spring of 1930. He did this in part as a hedging operation against his long position in other stocks.

"He said he could not tell off-hand the number of shares he had sold short this year."

"I don't think my short position has any more effect on the general welfare of the country than a rabbit," he said.

He said he had never been in a pool and had never done anything
to make the market go down.

"Beats as patriotic as 'Boh,'" he said. "A million other things make the market go up or down—not my trading," said Brush.

"Do you think you are justified in staying short at this time?" he was asked.

He replied that "patriotism" had nothing to do with it, and Glass supported him in the view that a "bear" was just as patriotic as a
"bull."

"Life is more patriotic," declared Glass.

"Don't think that a bear always makes money," said the witness.
There are times when he don't sleep so doggedly well, I assure you.

"Look at your chart and observe the rallies, and you will see what the short had to ride through."

Brush was accused of subject to call and the committee recessed
to 2:30, with the announcement that Percy Rockefeller would then be heard.

Rockefeller on Stand.
As the examination of Rockefeller began, Senator Fletcher
of Florida was scanning a New York publication, "Inside Stuff," which described Rockefeller as "the world's most ruthless bear" and told of $475,000,000 profits he was alleged to have made in short selling operations.

Rockefeller is a director in numerous corporations. Among them
the American International Corporation, of which Brush is president. The others include Anaconda Copper Mining Co., the Brooklyn Edison Co., Inc.; Consolidated Gas of New York, Consolidated Railways of Cuba, International Match Corporation, National City Bank of New York, New York Edison Co. and Western Union Telegraph Co.

Questioned by Gray, Rockefeller said he was on the board of about 50 corporations. He had been a trader on the exchange for 15 or 20 years. He had traded on both sides or his personal account and had been on the long side in syndicate
operations.

The peak of his long operations,
he stated in his testimony, was in 1929. He was 22,000 to 23,000 shares. On the short side, his high mark was 60,000 to 70,000 shares.
At present, he said, he was long on the market and had no short interest. He got out of the short side
four or six weeks ago.

back, but he didn't know whether
at a lower price or not.

Gray pressed him about the price
of the repurchase, but the witness
repeated his previous answer.

"It is because you are a director of the company that you won't tell
us that you bought that stock back
at a lower price," persisted Gray.
Rockefeller again said that he didn't recall whether the price was higher or lower than the sale
"against the box."

He was in a pool on the long side
in Childs Restaurant stock. The pool divided up its holdings last
year, but Rockefeller said he couldn't remember who were in the pool. The lawyer commented sat-irically on the inability to remember what happened in the pool only a year ago.

The witness said he was also in a pool that traded in Lima Locomotive, and in another interested in Anaconda, the latter of which had been disbanded. His associates in these pools were Thomas E. Bragg
and Bernard E. Smith. He said he had no idea where these men were
at present. Gray said the committee was trying to find them.

Known as Bear Raiders.
"You know that these two men
are known as a couple of bear raiders in New York, don't you?" asked Gray.

"They have the reputation," replied Rockefeller.

"You were in the hands of Bragg
& Smith, and you furnished the
money and didn't know much of what was going on?" quizzed Gray.
Rockefeller said he had furnished only his proportionate share.

Didn't this syndicate render you
a report?"

"They must have done so once
a year," was the reply.

"When did they get interested in Alaska Juneau?"

"About a year ago."

"Can't you name the stocks they dealt in?"

He could not.

"Then they might have been operating short on the stocks of companies that you were a director in?"
asked Gray.

The witness said that he had never been short on the stock. The stock once sold at 214. It is now at 40.

Short on U. S. Steel.
Gray brought out that in good times the steel companies were large customers of Air Reduction.

"Was the syndicate short on steel stocks?" "No, sir."

"But you personally were short?"
he said.

Gray said that he had been personally short on U. S. Steel, but never on Bethlehem, of which he is a director.

The witness said he was called upon to put up a margin this week.
He said his present investment in the syndicate was $100,000.

Rockefeller said that at one time
he had 30,000 shares of Air Reduction and now had only 1000 shares.
He had twice "sold against the box"—900 shares each time.

"You waited till the stock depreciated in value and then bought it back?" he was asked.

He replied that he bought it

STATE'S ALIENISTS CONTINUE STUDY OF LIEUT. MASSIE

Trial for Murder of Hawaiian Will Be Resumed Tomorrow With Their Testimony.

Clarence Darrow Declares

of Mrs. Massie.

Associated Press.
HONOLULU, April 22.—Two State alienists today continued their observations of Lieut.
Massie in the prosecution's efforts to prove that he was guilty of the murder of Joseph K. Massie, his wife.

Trial of Lieut. Massie and his co-defendants was in advance until tomorrow when the alienists prepared their testimony. The State experts are Dr.
Joseph C. Catton of San Francisco, whose testimony recently helped convict Mrs. Winnie Ruth Judd of the murder of two women in Phoenia, and Dr. Paul Bowers of Angela, N. J. Both arrived yesterday. Dr. Bowers readily stated that he had never seen Lieut. Massie before.

Dr. Bowers' testimony recalled
the dramatic testimony of Mrs.
Massie, wife of the accused murderer, who testified that she saw Lieut. Massie in a criminal act which she alleged was a murder. "I never saw anything like it," Darrow said. "I've seen in some pretty good movies, but nothing like that."

Prosecutor John C. Kelley, who displayed some temper after the two-day delay obtained by prosecution indicated the trial
would not be finished before next week. Kelley previously said he would require one day to present his case. The State must come up with arguments of counsel and Lieut. Massie's defense attorneys.

Medical Society Plans Action.
Meanwhile a resolution was expected to be introduced tonight at meeting of the Territorial Medical Society proposing to put the society
in correspondence with the physicists and students as privileged matter.

The proposed action was the result of the attempt by Prosecutor Kelley to introduce a psychopathic examination, which Mrs. Massie took as evidence in the trial.
Dr. Joseph Strode, president of the society, said, however, it was likely there would be any action
of the society while the trial was in progress. He said it might be advised as in contempt of court
for hindering the case.

Dr. Lowell Kelly, who gave the examination to Mrs. Massie, is professor of philosophy at the University of Hawaii.

Whether or not Smith was a spe-

witness recalled that Smith
was with him in the Anaconda pool,
which had the long side.

"I don't know," he said. "I pool."

On some occasions, he said, he heard accounts under numbers to dispatch one from another, but he never saw Smith ever get confidential and tell you how he operated his pools."

"We are not making much headway here," observed Chairman Nordquist. "Smith told him a car.
Gray said he had made efforts
to locate both Bragg and Smith, but without success. The witness said that when he first knew Smith
he was an automobile salesman
and sold him a car.
Rockefeller said he covered his short position about five weeks ago. This short interest was in stock, but the witness said he could not recall the names of the stocks. Gray professed great surprise at the call of the names listed and asked the wit-

LAWYER ENDS LIFE, BROTHER FINDS BODY

E. Louis Klobasa Jr., Who Had

Shoots Himself.

E. Louis Klobasa Jr., 25 years old, an attorney, was found dead,
with a bullet wound near the heart,
in his room at the home of his parents at 78 Arundel place, Clayton, last evening. He had been in ill health.

The body was seated in a chair,
and on the floor near by was a revolver. A note found in the room will be turned over to the coroner.
Graduated from Washington University Law School in 1929, Kloba-sa was connected with the Maryland Casualty Co. Funeral services will be held at 3 p. m. tomorrow from his residence. In addition to his parents, Klobasa is survived by a brother, Alan, who surance company.

stocks in question. The witness memory was not improved, and Gray desisted from the reading.
Rockefeller said he had once been short on Standard Oil of Indiana.

Echoing what Whitney had said, Rockefeller declared that recent agings in prices was due to general liquidation. He said the tax bill had caused great alarm among the people.

When he went short in January,
1927, Rockefeller said his short interest was about 10,000 or 12,000
shares.

He said he suffered a "terrible"
loss in 1929 and sought to recoup.
"What do you mean by a 'terrible' loss?" asked Senator Couzens.
"A good many millions," said Rockefeller.

He added that he had sold short because it was a "necessary insurance."
He repeated that his losses since 1929 had been "terrible." Some of the corporations in which he was interested were a "total loss."
Gray wanted to know whether his actual losses had been in millions.

"I would say that is the net
loss," Rockefeller replied.
He said his losses had been in the Cuban-Dominican Sugar Co.
"What of your stock market operations?" "The net loss has been very considerable in addition to depreciation," said Rockefeller.
Short Profit $550,000.
"What has been your largest individual short position?" "About 20,000 shares."
"Have you made money out of your short position?" "Yes, while the market was going down," Rockefeller replied.
He said the total he had made on the short side in the last two and a half years was about $550,- 000.
Rockefeller was excused, and William B. Cravath was called. He said he was from Arizona, "where the sun shines every day." He was a member of the New York Stock Exchange from 1926 to 1929.
Cravath took direct issue with Whitney's views on the effects of short selling.
In 1929, he said, great amounts of "stupid money" were in the hands of "stupid people." The inflation was the result.
"The phrase, 'a free and open market' is the bunk," he said.
"When people are selling stocks right and left because they have to,
it is not a free and open market,
the short seller then comes in and he is interested in destroying the market. He aggravates the condition."
"When you have got three or four brokers selling stock for a decline,
you can knock 3 or 4 cents off a stock so quick you wouldn't know it."

ing down his story. After they had shown him that his finger-prints
tallied with those found on a window sill at the home of Miss Mamie Rentiers, 4025 Lindell boulevard,
when a "shorts burglar" entered
there April 1, he readily admitted
a series of such crimes since last October. He went throughout his questioning.

Police experts identified marks left in four other burglaries as his fingerprints. The homes robbed were those of Schantz Zela, 726 Heman avenue, University City, a year ago; Joseph W. Bealer, 2249 Klemm street, Sept. 9, 1931; L. Lannan Benoit, 4946 Buckingham court,
Dec. 22, 1931, and Isidor Mathes,
5521 Waterman avenue, early Wednesday. A Vellied Prophet maid's tiara valued at $500 and Christmas presents were taken from the Benoit home.

Why He Was Seen Often.
In rooms where the burglar
found women in bed, he invariably
sat on the edge of the bed or
touched the occupant, awakening
her. The woman usually fled, and he fled. He admitted that he screamed, "This accounts for his presence being noted so frequently."

The automobile in which detectives found Eaves seated was stolen
from 525 Clara avenue last November, and bore a pair of license
plates stolen from another automobile. In it were Eaves' tools,
the purse and a bankbook
stolen from Miss Irwin, a $1 bill,
two revolvers, several empty men's
wallets, a watch with the initials
"H. H. B.," a memorandum book,
a pawn ticket and a brief case
containing a file hat.

One revolver was identified as having been stolen last November
from the home of Frank Steutem-
an, police turnkey, 5212 Idaho
avenue.

Companion Arrested.
On statement made by Eaves,
police arrested an unemployed
railroad clerk, who said he was
Cyril Schaub, 20 years old, 4025A
Lafayette avenue. According to the officers he admitted assisting Eaves
in the theft of three automobiles,
including the one in which Eaves
was found, and in several holdups.
The other two stolen automobiles
were recovered in front of his home and Eaves' home.

Schaub was asked what he knew
about Eaves' activities in "shorts,"
or if he himself had ever gone
about unclad. "No, I never went
out in shorts," Schaub said. "I drove him several places, but he
never let me in on those jobs."
Eaves told police he had two
relatives who were a police Lieutenant and Sergeant and that he
was distant from a Circuit
Judge. Records show he was sentenced to two months in the Workhouse by Judge Butler in the Court of Criminal Correction in 1929, on a charge of petty larceny.

BABY FOUND ON FARM IS NOT THE LINDBERGH CHILD

Police at Syracuse, New York, Question Pair Who Say They Are Grandparents of Infant.

By the Associated Press.
SYRACUSE, N. Y., April 22.—
The Syracuse Herald, after two hours of investigation, today announced that it had proved to its own satisfaction that a child picked up near Brewerton today and described as a "dead ringer" of the kidnaped son of Charles A. Lindbergh was not that child.

Doctors who examined the child communicated with Col. Lind-bergh's representatives and received the reply that "absolutely it is not the Lindbergh child."
The baby boy was brought here by officers today from a farm near Brewerton with two persons who said they were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Scott, farmers. The Scotts, who two weeks ago purchased a farm
two miles from Brewerton, about 12 miles from Syracuse, put under rigid questioning, said the boy was a grandson and that his mother, Mrs. Frank L. Tulip, was a school teacher at Burlington, Vt.

The Herald announced that it had succeeded in locating the paternal grandmother of the boy at Essex Junction, Vt., and that her description of the lad tallied respectively.
The Associated Press found that the birth record at Port Henry,
N. Y., showed that Arthur Vernon L.
Tulip was born there on Oct. 25, 1929, and that his parents were Frank and Edith White L. Tulip.
Meanwhile, county officials here
continued to question the Scotts.

Lindbergh Returns From Mysterious Two-Day Trip.

By the Associated Press.
HOPEWELL, N. J., April 22.—
Back from a mysterious trip, Col.
Charles A. Lindbergh conferred early today with persons helping him in his attempts to get his kidnaped son back.
The Colonel, absent two days
during which he apparently tried to establish contact with the kidnapers, drove into his Saurdian Hill home about midnight.
Immediately lights shone from many windows in the house and activity was apparent. An automobile owned by Edmund Bruce of Elmira, friend of John H. Curtis of Norfolk, drove into the grounds. Why lights shone the driver resembled Bruce. Two men sat on the rear seat.

Curtis, one of three Norfolk intermediaries assisting Lindbergh, has conferred frequently with the flyer.
A man traveling under the name
"H. Pearson" but believed to be Dean H. Dobson-Peacock, colleague of Curtis, arrived last night at

tion the theory that her son, Haden Clarke, took his own life. The mother, a journalism instructor, at first expressed the belief that her son shot himself.
"When Capt. Lancaster ran out of money during a recent trip to Mexico, he telegraphed back that he was going to pawn his pistol,
and Haden told me he hoped fervently that he wouldn't bring the damned thing back," she said.
Lancaster's pistol was found under Clarke's body after the shooting.

HOLDUP SLAYER OF POLICEMAN GETS LIFE TERM

Hubert Harvey Unmoved
as Verdict Is Returned in Killing of Patrolman Kreidler on Bus.

Hubert Harvey, slayer of Patrolman Adolph Kreidler in an attempted motorbus holdup Sept.
29, was found guilty of first degree murder last midnight by a jury in Circuit Judge Beck's Court.
Punishment was fixed at life imprisonment.

Harvey, husky 210-pound furniture mover, received the verdict
without outward show of emotion and declined to comment. The jury reached its verdict of guilty within a few minutes after it began its deliberations but spent more than three hours arriving at the punishment. Some of the panel held out for the death penalty.

In defense, Harvey had pleaded that he did not know the 56-year-old officer who grappled with him
atop a South Grand boulevard bus
was a policeman, since Kreidler was in civilian clothes. He denied, too, that he had attempted to hold up the bus conductor. Instead he declared he was setting out to look for a job, although the hour was 11:30 p. m.

He admitted he was carrying a revolver, and offered no explanation for it. The weapon, he asserted, was discharged accidentally when Kreidler and he began to scuffle for its possession after Harvey had argued with the bus conductor over payment of a fare.
The State, however, showed that Harvey had tried to hold up the conductor, since Kreidler had interfered, and that Harvey had first shot him in the leg, then spun him around and shot him through the back of the head.

After the slaying of Kreidler the police traced the robbery gang
through a cleaner's mark in a hat
thrown away by Harvey as he fled from the bus. The other defendants are Marion Stephens, William Davis and Thomas Colby. The three, according to confessions,
were following the bus in two automobiles, intending to pick up Harvey after the robbery, but fled when they heard the shots.

WOMAN'S SENTENCE REDUCED FROM FIVE TO TWO YEARS

Judge Reconsiders Mrs. Adeline
Giles' Motion; Pleas Changed
From Robbery to Grand Larceny.

Mrs. Adeline Giles, found guilty of robbery Feb. 3 by a jury which fixed her punishment at five years in prison, received a new trial today, and immediately pleaded guilty to the reduced charge of grand larceny. Circuit Judge Pearcy then sentenced her to two years in prison.

Judge Pearcy had previously refused a motion for a new trial, but reconsidered today, he said, because he became convinced that Mrs. Giles was acting under the dominance of her husband, Johnson C. Giles, who is serving ten years in prison.
Together they held up James A.
Mowrey last Dec. 12 in his dry goods store at 2710 St. Louis avenue, robbing him of $449. Giles pleaded guilty.

MISSISSIPPI VALLEY LIFE RECEIVER SOUGHT

Texan Alleges Insurance Company Is Insolvent, Charges
Failure to Pay on Policy.

Suit for a receiver for the Mississippi Valley Life Insurance Co., 3207 Washington boulevard, alleging insolvency, was filed in Circuit Court today by William James Moran of El Paso, Tex. Moran asserts the company has failed to pay him the $1190 cash surrender value of a policy he holds.
The company has about $30,000-000 insurance in force. It is capitalized at $100,000.

An accounting for $15,000 alleged to have been carried by the company in a Eureka Springs (Ark.) bank until April 15, an audit and a marshaling of assets also are asked by Moran.

Unsatisfied claims against the company exceed $125,000, it is alleged. The suit lists the alleged items as follows: Unpaid death claims, $225,000; default on cash
surrender values and policy loans,
in excess of $180,000; unpaid court judgments, $40,000; Federal income taxes for which it is said the Government is threatening to issue a distrain order, in excess of $5000;
taxes due the State of Missouri on premium income, in excess of $2000; various city and county taxes, for some of which suits have been filed, $60,000.

Moran alleges the company is unable to meet its obligations or to procure new capital, and that its condition has been withheld from the policy holders. The assets, he says, have not been conserved but have been dissipated. The $15,000 in the Eureka Springs bank was not used to pay creditors but to meet obligations of directors, he alleges. He charges the officers and directors with mismanagement.
In 1929, Moran sets forth, he took a $5000 policy in the Two Republics Life Insurance Co. of El Paso, but this was assumed by Mississippi Valley Life in taking over the El Paso concern. Moran says
he paid the premium of $150.80 a year and on Feb. 25 applied for his cash surrender value. The company failed to pay him and at times failed to answer proper inquiries or gave evasive and dilatory
answers, he asserts.

G. E. Burson, secretary of Mississippi Valley Life, declined to comment on the suit before receiving a copy of it. H. H. Fuller is president of the company, which is incorporated in Illinois, according to the suit. Burson said it was established in Shelbyville, Ill., in 1908 and moved to St. Louis several years ago.

back, but he didn't know whether
at a lower price or not.
Gray pressed him about the price
of the repurchase, but the witness
repeated his previous answer.
"Is it because you are a director
of the company that you won't tell
us that you bought that stock back
at a lower price?" persisted Gray.
Rockefeller again said that he
didn't recall whether the price was
higher or lower than the sale
"against the box."
He was in a pool on the long side
in Childs Restaurant stock. The
pool divided up its holdings last
year, but Rockefeller said he
couldn't remember who were in the pool. The lawyer commented nar-cassically on the inability to remember what happened in this
pool only a year ago.
The witness said he was also in a pool that traded in Lima Locos stock, and in another interested in Anaconda, the latter of which had
been disbanded. His associates in
these pools were Thomas E. Bragg
and Bernard E. Smith. He said he had no idea where these men were
at present. Gray said the committee was trying to find them.
Known as Bear Raiders.
"You know that these two men
are known as a couple of bear raiders in New York, don't you?" asked
Gray.
"They have the reputation," replied Rockefeller.
"You were in the hands of Bragg
& Smith, and you furnished the
money and didn't know much of
what was going on?" quizzed Gray.
Rockefeller said he had furnished only his proportionate share.
Didn't this syndicate render you a report?
"They must have done so once
a year," was the reply.
"When did they get interested in this stock?" Thomas E. Bragg asked.
"About a year ago."
"Can't you name the stocks they
dealt in?"
He could not.
"Then they might have been concerned with the stocks of companies that you were director in?" asked Gray.
The witness said they (Smith & Bragg) might possibly have dealt in them, but he was confident they did not.
" weren't there a lot of rotten operations in Alaska Juneau?"
"I don't know."
Stock Up in 1931.
Gray asked how it was that Alaska Juneau went up in 1931
when the trend of the market was down.
"How could that have been accomplished without manipulation?"
he demanded.
"I don't know," again replied the witness.
Gray said that Smith, a member of the pool, was a Stock Exchange specialist in Alaska Juneau stock
and as such had inside information which he used in aid of the pool
operations.
Rockefeller said he did not know

AVIATRIX STILL HELD IN KILLING OF FIANCE

Mother Doubts That Son, Shot
at Mrs. Keith-Miller's Home, Ended Life.

By the Associated Press.
MIAMI, Fla., April 22.—Mrs.
Jessie M. Keith-Miller, Australian flyer, faced further questioning today in the fatal shooting of her fiance, Haden Clarke. Both Mrs.
Keith-Miller and her aviation partner, Capt. W. N. Lancaster, were kept in custody last night. State Attorney N. Vernon Hawthorne said he was convinced the woman was not connected with the shooting, but that he planned to question her and Lancaster further to try to determine if Clarke committed suicide or was slain.

Why He Was Seen Often.
In rooms where the burglar
found women in bed, he invariably
sat on the edge of the bed or
touched the occupant, awakening
her. The woman usually fled, and
he fled. He admitted that he
screamed, "This accounts for his
presence being noted so frequently."

The automobile in which detec-
tives found Eaves seated was stolen
from 525 Clara avenue last November, and bore a pair of license
plates stolen from another automobile. In it were Eaves' tools,
the purse and a bankbook
stolen from Miss Irwin, a $1 bill,
two revolvers, several empty men's
wallets, a watch with the initials
"H. H. B.," a memorandum book,
a pawn ticket and a brief case
containing a file hat.

One revolver was identified as
having been stolen last November
from the home of Frank Steutem-
avenue.

Companion Arrested.
On statement made by Eaves,
police arrested an unemployed
railroad clerk, who said he was
Cyril Schaub, 20 years old, 4025A
Lafayette avenue. According to the
officers he admitted assisting Eaves
in the theft of three automobiles,
including the one in which Eaves
was found, and in several holdups.
The other two stolen automobiles
were recovered in front of his
home and Eaves' home.

Schaub was asked what he knew
about Eaves' activities in "shorts,"
or if he himself had ever gone
about unclad. "No, I never went
out in shorts," Schaub said. "I
drove him several places, but he
never let me in on those jobs."
Eaves told police he had two
relatives who were a police Lieutenant and Sergeant and that he
was distant from a Circuit
Judge. Records show he was sentenced to two months in the
Workhouse by Judge Butler in the Court of Criminal Correction in 1929, on a charge of petty larceny.

BEER PARADE PLAN VARIOUSLY RECEIVED

Some Organizations Oppose Others Indorse It in Letters to Mayor.

Letters received by Mayor Miller today about the proposed beer parade, May 14, did not foam with enthusiasm for the demonstration, which 15 Aldermen have asked the Mayor to arrange.

The League of Women Voters, one of the 20 organizations to which the Mayor sent letters inquiring as to indorsement and co-operation in the parade, wrote courteously: "The League of Women Voters of St. Louis cannot take part or co-operate in this demonstration."

A reply came also from the Associated Industries, through Elmer Donnell, executive vice president. He said the matter of co-operation in the parade would have to be taken up by the board of directors, 26 business executives in different parts of the State, and that they would not meet until after the day set for the parade. He added: "I am personally of the opinion that the vote of our directors on this question would be negative."

Indorsement of the parade plan came from the Missouri Association Against Prohibition, of which James W. Byrnes is president. He wrote that the association would furnish marchers and banners. Another anti-prohibition group, the Crusaders, has not written to the Mayor, but has made the suggestion that the parade should be a motorized affair. The plans discussed thus far have been for a mass demonstration, largely on foot.

The St. Louis Hotel Men's Association met last night at Hotel Lamoignon and voted to co-operate in the parade by sending representatives to ride. Nothing was said about walking.

W. J. Edwards, a Merchants' Exchange dealer, sent the Mayor his "vigorous protest" against any effort by the city to raise money to conduct a beer parade in imitation of Mayor Jimmy Walker and his Tammany Hall crowd. To spend money on this, when our citizens were compelled to give for the crisis relief fund would be outrageous," he said. "The demand for this parade comes from only one source."

Lester M. Hall, lawyer and Boy Scout worker, wrote the Mayor a long letter, recalling the days when "a majority of our Aldermen were saloon keepers," and picturing the city's improvement since that time. He said that, while St. Louis senti-

WARRANT CHARGES EX-CONVICT WITH KILLING MAN AND WIFE

Accuses William Bruley of Murder of Mr. and Mrs. Roth on Houseboat.

A warrant charging William Bruley, ex-convict, with the murder of William Roth and his wife, Margaret, who were beaten to death Saturday night or early Sunday in Roth's houseboat at Creve Coeur Lake, was issued today at Clayton. Bruley has not been arrested. He served a five-year prison term for killing a man in a saloon brawl and later was arrested as a suspect in a murder in which a man was beaten to death, but was not charged with the killing. He and Roth had had a fight last Christmas eve in which Roth was severely beaten. The Sheriff at Clayton declined to say on what evidence the warrant was obtained.

SAYS WORLD BANKERS SEEK CANCELLATION OF WAR DEBTS

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, April 22.—Senator Watson (Rep.), Indiana, charged in an interview yesterday that international bankers are attempting to depress the market in order to force cancellation of war debts.

"I have a solemn conviction," Watson said, "that international bankers through their brokers have tried to smash the market and hold up the recovery of American business in order to force cancellation of war debts. It's their game and we hope to prove it."

ment was wet, things were different in the city's trade territory, and that the parade would be a source of "ridicule and condemnation to the city."

Larry Sherman Kent, author of an anti-prohibition booklet, sent the Mayor a copy of the booklet, accompanied by an argument that a campaign of education, not a parade, is needed.

Two men writing to the Mayor yesterday threatened to cancel their Crisis Fund subscriptions if the city should spend $10,000 on the parade. The advocates of the parade say, however, that the parade will not cost nearly so much as that, and that the city government will not be asked to pay any part of the cost.

Mayor Miller will await replies from more organizations before deciding whether to proceed with the plan, or whether to drop it. He opposed the parade idea, as did 11 of the Aldermen. One of the objections made was, that a mass demonstration, under present conditions, might get out of the control of its organizers. The announced purpose of the parade is to give Congress a demonstration of sentiment in favor of the legalization of beer, as a tax relief and employment measure.

SENATOR ROBINSON OF ARKANSAS FOR PACT WITH SOVIET

Democratic Leader in Senate Says Establishment of Relations Will Aid U. S. Commerce.

By the Associated Press.
ATLANTA, Ga., April 22.—
Prompt consideration should be given to the establishment of diplomatic and trade relations with Russia, United States Senator Joseph
T. Robinson of Arkansas,

Democratic majority leader, said
here last night.
The senator's statement follows:
"As one feature in the policy of promoting amicable international relations and stimulating our foreign commerce, I believe that prompt consideration should now be
given to the establishment of diplomatic and trade relations with Russia. Such a course in my opinion does not involve approval of the political policies of the Soviet Republic. It means the application of well-established principles of international law as well as the recognition of the significance of export trade to the problem of unemployment, now the most acute of all our difficulties.
"Comparing the aggregate of domestic exports from the United States in 1931 with that of 1929, our foreign trade has been cut in half. The establishment of trade relations under present conditions with Russia should be calculated to promote international peace and good will."

MME. NAIDU, ACTING PRESIDENT OF INDIAN CONGRESS, ARRESTED

Taken Into Custody for Attempting to Leave Bombay to Attend Delhi Convention.
BOMBAY, India, April 22.—Mme.
Sarojini Naidu, acting president of the Indian National Congress, was arrested today for defying a Government order forbidding her to leave Bombay to attend the annual Congress convention at Delhi.
She had expected to be detained for just before she left her home
she said, "I know I shall be arrested, but patriotism means more to me than prison. It is my duty at least to make an attempt to hold the convention."
Mme. Naidu said she held no ill will against the Government, which had forbidden the Delhi meeting,
or the officers who arrested her.
She asserted they had been extraordinarily considerate to her and she regarded it as an honor to follow
Mahatma Gandhi to jail.

FRISCO'S DIFFICULTIES LAID IN PART TO MERGER SCHEME

Road, Sued for City Taxes, Invested $10,506,190, in Rock Island Stock Now Worth $1,099,998.

The St. Louis-San Francisco Railway Co. has been unable to pay its taxes of $16,082 due the city of St. Louis, although it recently obtained a loan of $2,805,175
from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, and Collector Koeln filed suit against it Wednesday.
The plight of the Frisco is partly due to investment in the stock of another railroad to further a merger plan. It was a similar venture that brought financial trouble

to the Wabash, as was told recently in the Post-Dispatch.
Having suffered a deficit of $3,255,762 in 1931, the Frisco was unable at the close of the year to pay property taxes in the various states in which it operates. Its unpaid tax bill in Missouri is approximately $750,000. Early this year the road applied to the Reconstruction Finance Corporation
for a loan of $17,998,542 and received $2,805,175, with the possibility of obtaining other advances later. The loan allowed was to meet maturities of bonds and equipment trust certificates.
The Interstate Commerce Commission last February informed the House Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee that it was estimated the Frisco owed the Government, under the recapture provision of the Interstate Commerce Act, $19,556,512 from the excess profits of earlier years.
The Frisco's financial venture in the merger field was undertaken in 1926 when it purchased $18,323,200, par value, of the common stock of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific, paying $10,506,190, or $57.39 a share. Although only about 14 per cent of the outstanding voting stock of the Rock Island, this block was said in financial circles to give the Frisco working control because the remaining stock was scattered among about 15,000 owners.
The Rock Island stock began paying dividends in 1927, paying $5 a share that year, $6 the next,
$7 each in 1929 and 1930, but only $2.25 in 1931, suspending dividends after the second quarter.
Thus total dividends so far received by the Frisco from this stock amount to $3,995,825. Interest at 5 per cent on the investment cost of $10,506,190 for the six years totals
$3,151,857, leaving the Frisco some profit on the deal up to the time dividends were suspended.
There was a time when the Frisco could have made a substantial profit by sale of the stock. In 1929 it rose to $143 a share and if the Frisco had sold at that price it would have got its money back
plus a profit of $15,710,429.
In 1931, after suspension of dividends, the stock dropped to $14.50
a share and is now quoted on the

New York Stock Exchange at around $8. At the lower quotation
the market value is $1,099,998 compared with the purchase price of $10,506,190. Thus the Frisco cannot sell the stock except at a heavy loss and has tied up in the venture an amount three times its 1931 deficit.
The Rock Island purchase was made in expectation of joining the two roads into a great South-western system under the consolidation
plans of the Interstate Commerce Commission. The tentative plan announced in 1929 by the commission placed the two roads in one system, but thus far nothing has been done to carry out the plan.

"Let 'em go for $10 less"

A big slice of new Spring Suits headed for our $30 selections step down to $20 with two trousers

Truth of the matter is our $20 stocks needed reinforcements. $20 suits have been moving fast. We had to have more, in a hurry.

These more expensive worsteds were all set to leave our factory. They were born and bred as $30 suits — and they show it in their imported weaves, and the brisk, keen style of their English designing! "Let 'em go for $10 less" — put them in at $20 — were the orders that hummed over the 'phone. And that in a nutshell, is how smart buyers are going to get a rare "break" this week-end!

If you've got "that Spring suit feeling," here's your chance to indulge it — with a sweet $10 saving in the bargain.

$750,000 WILL OF FRANK SHELTON UPHOLD BY JURY

Relatives of Kennett, Mo., Banker Alleged That Bone Disease Had Impaired His Mind.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
FREDERICKTOWN, Mo., April 22.—The effort to break the $750,000 will of Frank Shelton, wealthy Kennett banker and landowner, failed when a jury Wednesday night brought in a verdict in which it was found that Shelton was of sound mind at the time of the execution of the will.

The case was brought here on a change of venue from Dunklin County and testimony started April 4. Aside from short recesses, the time since then has been consumed in the taking of testimony. The plaintiffs, the widow and children of the deceased banker, were represented by Senator Tom Ely of Kennett, Wayne Ely and Tom Ely of St. Louis, George Moore of Kennett and E. D. Anthony and D. M. Terau of this city. The trustees and executors of the will were represented by R. L. Ward, Orville Zimmerman and Judge Bradley and Davis & Damron of this city.

The will which attempted to dispose of an estate worth more than $750,000, was made Sept. 20, 1929, while Shelton was in St. Luke's Hospital. He was suffering from a bone disease, and had been told he could not get well. The estate was left in trust to his second wife, her two children and a son by a former marriage. Mrs. Shelton was to receive her share within five years while the children were not to receive their shares until they were 30 years old. Hal H. McHaney, Lee Shelton, a brother, and A. J. Langdon, all prominent Kennett business men, were named executors and trustees.

The suit was based on three propositions that Shelton's long illness had impaired his mind, that he was unduly influenced by McHaney, his personal attorney, and that fraud had been practiced by the trustees through the collection of excessive fees.

Early in the trial Circuit Judge Threlkeld sustained a demurrer as to the fraud charge, but permitted the charge of undue influence to reach the jury over the vigorous protests of the defense attorneys. Almost 100 witnesses, among them noted physicians from several states, were examined.

Yesterday was spent by the attorneys in their arguments, each side consuming about four hours. The plaintiffs' attorneys have announced that they will file a motion for a new trial.

TREASURER OF U. S. PRAISES R. F. C. AND GLASS BANK BILL

These Measures, Says Walter O. Woods in Address Here, Will Turn the Tide of Depression.

The Reconstruction Finance Corporation and the Glass-Steagall amendment to the Federal Reserve Act, will turn the tide of depression and inject the needed stimulant into business, Walter O. Woods, Treasurer of the United States, said last night at a banquet attended by members of the savings division of the American Bankers' Association.

A regional conference of the bankers at Hotel Jefferson will close this afternoon. The meeting, attended by bankers of the Middle West and Far West, opened yesterday.

These two measures, Woods declared, were the best, and, in fact, the only constructive depression remedies that have been proposed. For them he credited President Hoover, Secretary of the Treasury Mills and former Secretary Mellon.

He described their operation, and asked, "Does it not seem that they will meet the needs. Will they not drive hoarded funds out of their hiding places? If you believe they will, and if there are enough like you who believe they will, is that not all that is needed to revive business?"

Believes the Timid Will Buy. Bonds of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, Woods declared, backed by the credit of the Government, which is unimpaired "thanks to the sagacious management of Mr. Hoover, Mr. Mellon and Mr. Mills," will be willingly purchased by timid investors.

That undoubtedly, he said, will draw much cash from hiding, but greater benefit will be the restoration of confidence which will result from banks being able to procure cash on the safe but non-liquid securities they hold. Lack of confidence has caused banks to retain excessive cash balances, he said, and these excessive balances constitute the real hoarded money.

The Glass-Steagall bill, Woods declared, will enable Federal Reserve banks to issue $2,000,000,000 in additional currency, a sum far greater than that withdrawn in hoarding and sufficient to supply all the needs of business. When confidence has been restored, he said, there will no longer be any need of the increased currency and it may be retired.

W. McCallum Speaks. William McCallum, speaker, governor of the Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis, spoke this morning on preparations for emergencies. Lack of confidence in a bank is usually reflected first in the savings department, Martin said, and in that connection he recommended that bank buildings be planned to separate savings departments from the main banking rooms. With such arrangement, he said, if an unfounded rumor should start a run on the savings department it would not disturb the other banking departments.

Although banks may require notice of withdrawals from savings account, Martin said, such notices are in practice required only in time of emergency, and are looked on as danger signs. He suggested that some uniform practice applicable in good times as in bad, be adopted.

To remain in liquid condition, Martin said, banks must invest a certain proportion of their assets with more regard to convertibility than to interest return. Demand deposits particularly should be invested in such securities, and are looked on as danger signs. He suggested that some uniform practice applicable in good times as in bad, be adopted.

Public Confidence in Banks. W. R. Morehouse, vice president of the Security-First National Bank of Los Angeles, discussed public confidence in banks. He recommended, as a means of maintaining confidence, that officers of banks interview timid depositors, seek to eliminate detrimental news items from newspapers, and mail out confidence-building literature where needed. The interview proposal, he thought, was particularly effective.

"Imagine the almost unlimited possibilities of these interviews," he exclaimed. "They are like an endless chain. If our 20,000 banks would interview five such cases a day on the average, they would reach directly 100,000 depositors a day. Assuming that 100,000 people reached the first day speak to their friends about what has been told them, that makes, at least, 200,000 people reached the first day. If our banks would get together and agree to interview five customers a day, they could practically stop all rumors about the safety of banks within 60 days."

Dr. Isaac Lippincott, professor of economics at Washington University, spoke this noon. The Reconstruction Finance Corporation and the Glass-Steagall bill, he said, will be of enormous benefit to business, but not until business is ready to ask for credit for expansion.

That time will come, he said, when business has made up its mind that it is safe to use the proffered credit. The paramount need of today, therefore, is to reach a solid basis on which to build, he said. "Until this point in the industrial cycle has been reached, Dr. Lippincott said, it will be futile to try to inject credit into the industrial system.

All the usual signs indicate we are now at or near the bottom of the cycle, he said, and as soon as merchants and manufacturers have assured themselves that we have arrived at the real bottom, millions of dollars' worth of new business will make its appearance.

DRUNKEN DRIVER GETS 30 DAYS
Louis Metzger Also Fined $100 by Police Judge Blaine.
Louis Metzger, 47-year-old engraver, 3133 Texas avenue, was sentenced to 30 days in the workhouse and fined $100 by Police Judge Blaine today, for driving an automobile while drunk.

Two motor cycle policemen testified Metzger hit a parked automobile at Forest Park avenue and Sarah street the night of April 1 and failed to stop. They captured him a block away, the officers testified, and took him to city hospital, where he was pronounced intoxicated. Metzger appealed to the Court of Criminal Correction.

FISH URGES $1,000,000,000 U. S. EMPLOYMENT PROGRAM
Representative Fish Proposes Plan to House Committee After Opposing Cash Payment of Bonus.
By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, April 22.—Representative Fish (Rep.), New York, an opponent of full payment of the bonus, turned upon the House Ways and Means Committee today and charged it with a lack of "nerve and leadership" for not bringing out legislation to meet the economic crisis. He urged a $1,000,000,000 bond issue for a two-year program to keep people employed.

Fish was one of several House veterans of the World War who opposed payment of the $2,000,000,000 outstanding on the bonus certificates, contending issuance of that amount of new currency under the Patman bill would force the country off the gold standard.

26 Years on one job

"...and a good job it was this dentist did...to protect your teeth against pyorrhea"

Your own dentist will tell you about pyorrhea. It is one of his grave problems. It comes eventually to four out of five people. It is actually the cause of half the adult teeth which are lost.

Nobody today believes that simple polishing is all that is needed to keep healthy teeth. There is much more to it than that. When teeth "come out" there is a deeper cause than mere cleanliness or non-cleanliness. As often as not this deeper cause is pyorrhea.

Dr. R. J. Forhan specialized in this disease which starts in the gums and works downward to the tooth sockets. He spent twenty-six years in his chosen work and produced the toothpaste which bears his name—"Forhan's." Brush your teeth and massage your gums with Forhan's. Trust Forhan's to keep your teeth white and glistening. Even for this purpose there is no finer toothpaste made. But that is only one duty of Forhan's—and Forhan's is a double-duty toothpaste. Its other duty is to protect your gums.

Dentists all over the country are using the professional formula of Dr. Forhan in treating pyorrhea and Forhan's Toothpaste preserves the same scientific principle for preventive hygiene at home. Forhan's is a pleasant-tasting, agreeable toothpaste for general family use. It is pure and mild—liked by the children. But remember: "It's more than a toothpaste." It comes in a big brown tube, and owing to its individual character, it lasts surprisingly long.

CLAIMANT TO MILLIONS
DIES IN POVERTY

JOSEPH E. BARLOW.

MAN WITH CLAIM AGAINST CUBA FOR $9,000,000 DIES

Joseph E. Barlow of East
St. Louis Spent Fortune Trying to Recover for Property Seized.

By the Associated Press.
HAVANA, April 22.—Joseph E.
Barlow, formerly of East St. Louis, who for more than 10 years had sought $9,000,000 from the Cuban Government for the seizure of lands purchased by him, died here last night at the Anglo-American Hospital. He was 69 years old. Death was caused by pneumonia induced by malnutrition.

He claimed the Cuban Government had confiscated 32 blocks in what is now the center of Havana
after he had purchased the property in 1913 under old Spanish land grants. He had claims also for a tract of land known as Buena Vista, consisting of about 1000
acres in the suburban town of Ma-rianao.

He asked the United States Government to demand of Cuba execution of a court order giving him
title to Manglar de Urrutia, the Havana tract, and to adjust his other claims. After an investigation by the United States Senate's Foreign Relations Committee, the State Department declined to take action on the ground that Barlow
had not exhausted his legal rights in Cuban courts.

The Superior Court of the Province of Havana dismissed his last petition in May, 1930, nullifying writs against more than 50 persons in his fight for the Marianao tract.

Once a familiar figure in the halls of the State Department and on Capitol Hill, Mr. Barlow, bent and forlorn-looking, had been seen little recently outside of his hotel.

He exhausted a fortune in pressing his claims and announced toward the end of the litigation that he was penniless.

Mr. Barlow is survived by his mother, his widow, a son and two daughters.

St. Louis Attorneys Represented
Barlow in Fight.

Mr. Barlow, a native of Georgia, formerly operated a fruit warehouse in East St. Louis. He was represented in his claims against Cuba by Edward W. Foristel and John J. Brennan, St. Louis attorneys.

He left East St. Louis not long after the Spanish-American War and engaged in the fruit exportation business. Later he went to Cuba and began real estate operations.

After he bought Manglar de Urrutia and was organizing a development company to subdivide the tract, a Cuban, Pedro Gomez Mena, asserted title to the property under the "Form el Pouton," a Spanish statute.

Mr. Barlow's lawyers traced his title back to the Spanish crown in the seventeenth century and he finally won a verdict in the Cuban courts. As he had been arrested on various charges relating to his real estate dealings, he transferred his deed to a Cuban Congressman, exempt from arrest. As the matter stood, however, he was recorded as owner of the property, but was unable to claim it successfully through legal proceedings.

The Cuban Government then took over, without reimbursement, Mr.
Barlow's water mains in his Buena Vista property, according to his attorneys, on which he had spent $165,000. The Government used the mains to supply water to a military barracks.

This and his other claims languished in Cuban courts and meanwhile he continued to be arrested,
his lawyers charging his opponents were seeking to harass him until he left the country.

His 15th arrest came in 1929,
when, already a broken man, he was thrown into Principe Fortress Prison on the charge of a Spanish liver title to land purchased by her.

He proved that the property had reverted to his company for non-payment of installments, but not until after he had spent a night in a cell with several insane Negroes
and had been denied food by prison guards, according to his attorneys.

Denies Charges of E. E. Kennedy.
CHICAGO, April 22.—C. E. Huff, president of the Farmers' National Grain Corporation, termed as "false and ridiculous" charges made at Kankakee by Edward E. Kennedy, secretary of the Farmers' National Union, that Kennedy had been offered money not to oppose Huff's election as president of the National Farmers' Union at its St. Paul convention last April.

DEARMONT DENOUNCES RULE BY PENDERGAST

Calls on Missouri Democrats to Defeat Favorites of Kansas City Leader.

By CURTIS A. BETTS,
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., April 22.—Boss Pendergast's rule of the Democratic party was singled out as a major campaign issue in Missouri by State Senator Russell L. Dearmont of Cape Girardeau, candidate for the nomination for Governor, in a speech last night.

Dearmont was outspoken in his denunciation of the Kansas City boss, his efforts to control the nomination of candidates in the August primary, and his attempt to gain control of the State Government. He appealed to the Democrats of the State to defeat the boss and to "save the State and the party."

Dearmont addressed the Dearmont-for-Governor Club of Greene County, which has 1200 members, at its first meeting. It was his first public discussion of Pendergast, whose candidate for the nomination for Governor, Francis M. Wilson of Kansas City, is being opposed by Dearmont.

"An Important Issue."
"As we approach the August primary," Dearmont said, "an important issue is being raised, that in my opinion should be freely, frankly and fearlessly considered and discussed."

"It strikes, I believe, at the very heart of our party's future welfare and success. Its proper solution, in my opinion, will largely determine whether we are to control the political destinies of Missouri for many years to come, as we have every right and hope to do."

"Good friends have suggested that I need not discuss this issue, that others will gladly carry the burden in the heat of the day, and that I may sit idly by and reap the fruits of victory in a battle I have not fought."

"To follow such a course would strip me of self-respect, would entitle me to no confidence at your hands, would prove me unworthy and unfit for leadership."

"The question is, shall the Democratic party of Missouri turn its back upon principle, cease to stand for free government by a majority of the people and become a controlled party?"

"Shall we, in other words, adopt in Missouri the old, archaic, discredited boss system?"

Boss System a Failure.
"This is not a new question in the field of politics. Many times in the past have Democrats answered the question and in no uncertain terms held our party to be free and uncontrolled. In the past, most states that have tolerated the boss system, have definitely relegated the party responsible to a minority party status."

"For many years the Democratic party in New Jersey was dominated and controlled by Boss Smith. For 17 years prior to 1910, under his domination, no Democrat was elected to State office in New Jersey. Its electoral vote was cast each time for a Republican President."

"In the fall of 1910 the scene was changed. From an obscure place in the ranks of the party there came an idealist, one who was a Democrat from principle. Speaking of the boss system in that campaign, he said:

"Its existence is notorious. I have made it my business for many years to observe and understand that system, and I hate it as thoroughly as I understand it. The system is bi-partisan; it constitutes the most dangerous condition in the public life of our state and nation today; it has virtually, for the time being, destroyed representative government and in its place set up a government of privilege. I would propose to abolish it by the above reforms, by the election to office of men who will refuse to submit to it and bend all their energies to break it up and by pitiless publicity."

"You know the story. The people in their might repudiated bossism, and by a great majority placed in public service as Governor of New Jersey that matchless leader of Democracy—Woodrow Wilson."

"There can be no question but that we face this issue in the coming election. Long since, the reputed leader of the boss faction in Kansas City has announced a slate of candidates for the coming primary. More than a year ago he told the Democrats of Missouri who their candidate for Governor must be. And then as if to flaunt his power in the face of Missouri Democracy, the boss, with his minions, moved on the State Convention at St. Louis, took charge and brushed aside all opposition, brazenly announced that no Democrat, regardless of his or her position in the party, no matter what party service they had rendered, could represent our party in the national convention unless they accepted the yoke of bossism and agreed to support the boss candidates named. The good Democrats of Springfield felt the steam roller. Our United States Senator, able, long prominent in party service, was ruthlessly thrust aside. Long standing party precedent was ignored because the boss so willed."

State Jobs for the Faithful.
"And what lofty principles did the boss enunciate? What Democratic creed did he proclaim?"

"I am only interested in seeing that my boys in Kansas City get the jobs that are coming to them."

"What a slogan to arouse a militant party, to urge it on to victory."

"What a progressive program with which to attract to our standard the thinking, independent vote of Missouri.

"What will be the response of the three and one-half million citizens of Missouri who see no State job, but who must pay the bill."

"Will the followers of Thomas Jefferson, that inspired genius who wrote in immortal words of the three magic words of freedom, upon which ours, the first free Government, was founded, surrender their right to vote as freemen; stand as the lamb, dumb before the shearer, as they are shorn of the last sacred vested right of a free citizen—the right to freely vote as their consciences dictate?"

"I believe in the party system of government. I believe in party responsibility. I believe in party organization—not organization that delivers its vote in the primary and then is overwhelmed in the general election, but organization that leads, not by might, but by the effective power of purposeful leadership."

Policy on Party Patronage.
"I agree that party patronage should go to those eminently fitted for faithful public service, who have intelligently aided and actively supported their party. I believe, however, that patronage, jobs if you please, should not be an end in themselves, but only a means to an important end—good government.

"Missouri democracy is at the crossroads. One way leads to privilege, an enslaved party, to disappointment and defeat. The other leads to freedom, to honorable public service, to respect and victory."

"I am confident we will choose the right road. We will not have seemingly certain victory snatched from our very grasp, as the mirage illudes the weary traveler of the desert. We will not permit the ugly specter of boss rule and domination to haunt and drive from our fold those freedom-loving citizens who will not wear the yoke."

Plea for Free Primary.
"I take up the gage of battle. I ask for a free primary in Missouri."

"I ask your support only upon the basis of party loyalty and service, upon the basis of my fitness for useful public service."

"I ask you to join hands with me in re-establishing the leadership of the Democratic party in Missouri. I offer to you and the people of my State four of the best years of my life, dedicated to unselfish public service."

"If I am nominated I will happily and confidently lead a militant, uncontrolled democracy to an overwhelming victory next November."

MARION LAMBERT, INC. RECEIVERSHIP SOUGHT

Toilet Preparation Company Called to Answer Stockholder's Charges.

Suit for receivership for Marion Lambert, Inc., 627 Delmonte way, maker of a toilet preparation, was filed in Circuit Court yesterday by Lee Hess, a stockholder. The company was formed about three years ago as Lambert-Fessler, Inc., but changed its name April 6.

Marion L. J. Lambert, president; Arthur H. Peat, secretary-treasurer, and Stafford Lambert, C. F. Montgomery and A. M. Menz, directors, are named defendants. The suit also asks for an accounting, removal of the officers if it is found they have not done their duty, an injunction against changing the trade name of the product and against changing the design of the bottle it is sold in.

The suit alleges the company is on the verge of insolvency, with diminished business. The defendants, it is alleged, abused their powers, causing loss and waste of money. The petition charges considerable sums were paid to salesmen needlessly and excessive salaries to officers. Allegations also are made that an excessive proportion of income was devoted to advertising and that a useless office is maintained in San Francisco.

Capital of the company consists of 100,000 shares of $1 par value, of which the defendants own about 90 per cent and Hess owns 9059 shares, according to the suit. Hess says he has an assignment of a 99-year contract between the company and George C. V. Fessler, Inc., which entitles Hess to receive royalties of 2 1/2 per cent of the retail sales price of the product.

Hess, his attorney relates, formerly was sales manager for George C. V. Fessler, Inc., which sold the formula for the product to the defendant company. Hess now is chief owner of another pharmaceutical concern. Post declared there was no basis for the suit and it would be resisted. He said the business was in good condition and not threatened with insolvency.

Circuit Judge Norton issued an order to show cause next Thursday why a receiver should not be appointed.

FAVORS JOB SYSTEM MEASURE Senate Committee Decides to Re- port Out Wagner Bill.

WASHINGTON, April 22.—The Senate Commerce Committee yesterday decided to report favorably the Wagner employment system bill, virtually the same as the measure voted last year by President Hoover. The measure authorizes the Government to spend $1,000,000 yearly, apportioned among the states on the basis of population, to co-operate in setting up a uniform system of State-conducted employment exchanges.

The President's veto contained the present employment service of the Labor Department met the needs.

DEATH OF ILLINOIS U. MAN IN ECUADOR JUNGLE DISCLOSED

Young Chicago Chemist Succumbs to Starvation and Fever, Compatriot Writes Parents.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, April 22.—The death of a young Chicago chemist in the jungle of Ecuador last January was disclosed here yesterday in a letter sent his parents by a companion who barely survived. The letter told Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Walsh their son, Thomas J., a University of Illinois graduate, succumbed to starvation and probably tropical fever and was buried by the writer, Harold Foard of West Virginia, in the jungle. They were searching for valuable ore.

Foard's message, mailed from Momon, Peru, March 12, said three weeks after they left Lima, Peru, their boat was wrecked on the Marañon River. They saved a rifle and a few cartridges. Barely able to keep alive on game they shot and fruits and herbs, they pushed ahead to the region of the Paute River, a jungle inhabited by Indians. There Walsh died Jan. 29. A friendly native helped Foard reach Momon.

On the expedition Walsh had planned to gather data for a docutor's degree. For two years after his graduation from Illinois in 1929 he was stationed at Oroya, Peru, as a chemist for a copper corporation.

LUX for Underthings—removes perspiration acids and odors—Saves Colors

FRESH AS A ROSE, she steps from her tub and then—too often she puts on yesterday's lingerie!

She can't escape offending when she does this! For all healthy people perspire, and underthings absorb perspiration. Even though we don't notice it ourselves, other people do. It ruins the charming effect we want to make.

Why should any girl run such a risk? It's so easy to remove the slightest danger of offending. For Lux coaxes out every trace of perspiration acids and odors! So swiftly, too. Just 4 minutes Luxes all one day's underthings—stockings, too. Keeps colors and fabrics lovely as new so much longer. Economical!

Avoid Offending
Underthings absorb perspiration odor—Protect daintiness this 4-minute way

- 1 Wash this 4-minute way. One tablespoon of Lux does one day's undies... stockings, too! Use lukewarm water—Lux dissolves instantly in it. Squeeze suds through fabric, rinse twice.
- 2 Wash after each wearing, for perspiration acids left in silk fade colors and rot threads. Lux removes perspiration acids and odors completely—leaves colors and fabrics like new.
- 3 Avoid ordinary soaps—cakes, powders, chips. These often contain harmful alkali which weakens threads, fades color. Lux has no harmful alkali. Anything safe in water alone is safe in Lux.

GENEVA INDORSES SIMON PROPOSAL ON DISARMAMENT

Reaches Compromise on French Objections and Approves Qualitative Plan in Principle.

By the Associated Press.
GENEVA, April 22.—The World Disarmament Conference, approved today the principle of qualitative disarmament presented by Sir John Simon, British Foreign Minister, specifying that it should be achieved either by prohibition of the use or by internationalization of certain aggressive arms.

The resolution as adopted was a compromise of the British-American position with that of the French, leaving the way open for realization of the French proposal to fortify the League of Nations.

The choice between the methods—prohibition or internationalization—has yet to be made. Secretary of State Stimson did not attend the conference today. He conferred with Paul Hymans, chairman of the League Committee of Nineteen on the Chinese-Japanese situation, which was described as very critical.

Stimson conferred with Premier Tardieu of France, Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald of Great Britain and Chancellor Brüning of Germany. It was said authoritatively that Stimson did not touch on the international financial problem uppermost in the minds of the assembled statesmen, although the German Chancellor attempted to discuss that subject.

In official quarters, the Stimson-Tardieu conversation was summarized thus: The Secretary explained the American scheme of quantitative arms reduction, which entails three steps.

1. To determine the armed strength of each nation needs for internal police work, using the criteria employed in determining the limitations imposed on the Central Powers in the peace treaties.

2. To determine the armed strength each nation needs for defense, on the basis of each country's particular situation, considering its colonial possessions and other such demands.

3. The total would represent the approximate level of possible limitation.

This was advanced, Stimson explained, merely as a suggestion, and the United States would be glad to consider all schemes that might be presented.

Tardieu asked what the American attitude was toward security, and the Secretary replied that the United States would not be an obstacle in the way of European security pact, although it could not participate in any such agreement.

The French Premier then inquired what the American attitude would be in a case of aggression—especially what position it would take in the event of an economic blockade. To this Stimson replied that public opinion would determine the policy of the United States in each case.

The receiver is ordered to secure a full exchange of information concerning the financial position and current difficulties of International Match and its affiliates and is authorized to take such steps as it may deem necessary to aid in the continuance of the International Match Co.'s business and the conservation of its assets.

WESTINGHOUSE PRESIDENT INSPECTS PLANT HERE

Frank A. Merrick, president of the Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing Co., inspected his company's properties here yesterday on a tour of its plants throughout the country.

A slight improvement in business would place many companies on a profitable basis, he said, since profitable operations could be achieved at a level below the peak of 1928 and 1929. St. Louis, he remarked, appeared less severely affected than other cities, since there seemed to be greater disposition here to work a way out of depression and less to lament it.

TELLS OF 'SWEAT SHOP' GIRLS GETTING $1 AND $2 A WEEK

Massachusetts State Senator Charges Workers Are Being "Forced Into the Gutters."

By the Associated Press.
BOSTON, April 22.—Operators of "sweat shops" in Massachusetts were charged with dragging women employees to depths lower than in the days of slavery at a hearing before a legislative committee yesterday.

State Senator William S. Conroy of Fall River, sponsor of a bill which would make shops mark articles and packages produced by employees earning less than the scale provided by the Minimum Wage Commission, led the attack.

Conroy said girl workers in some textile plants were being "forced into the gutters" and compelled to submit to the attentions of the "sweat shop bosses" in order to retain their positions.

"I know of one girl being paid 40 cents for 48 hours of work and of others who got $1 and $2 a week," he said.

ILLINOIS BANKER IS INDICTED

URBANA, Ill., April 22.—Arthur Goers of Sadorus, Ill., former cashier of the closed Farmers' Trust State Bank, was indicted yesterday on a charge of embezzlement.

Authorities said there was a shortage of between $30,000 and $50,000 in records of the bank, which closed March 20. Goers has been in the county jail since his arrest March 21, under $50,000 bond.

Australian Net Stars En Route To Cuban Courts

By the Associated Press.
HONOLULU, April 22.—The Australian Davis Cup players, who have been held for the mid-Pacific Invitation Tournament, will leave aboard the Maile today for Los Angeles.

After a few matches in Los Angeles they will leave for New Orleans and proceed from there to Havana, where they will play the Cuban Davis Cup team. They will reach Havana about May 15.

From Havana they will go to Philadelphia, arriving the latter part of May, to play the American Davis Cup team.

Members of the party are Mr. and Mrs. Jack Crawford, Mr. and Mrs. John Clemenger, Clifford Sproule and Harry Hopman.

Crawford, first ranking Australian net star, won the men's singles at the mid-Pacific tournament, while he and Hopman won the doubles.

STOCKHAM POST VOTES TO TAKE FIGHT ON TAYLOR UP TO GOVERNOR

Members of the Fred W. Stockham Post of the American Legion in their regular weekly meeting today unanimously adopted a resolution drawn up by Charles E. Downs, chairman of its boxing committee, censuring Seneca C. Taylor, Missouri Athletic Commissioner for his action with regard to Edward Vandeventer (Kid Bandy) who has been identified as William A. Berberich, owner of a delivery service and president of a company which controls several hotels, among them the Marquette.

The resolution cites several acts on the part of Taylor which, it alleges, were discriminatory and against the interests of the Stockham Post. Among these actions the resolution alleges the post has been forced to accept dates which subjected its shows to unfair competition, causing considerable financial loss to Bandy's backer, who has been identified as William A. Berberich, owner of a delivery service and president of a company which controls several hotels, among them the Marquette.

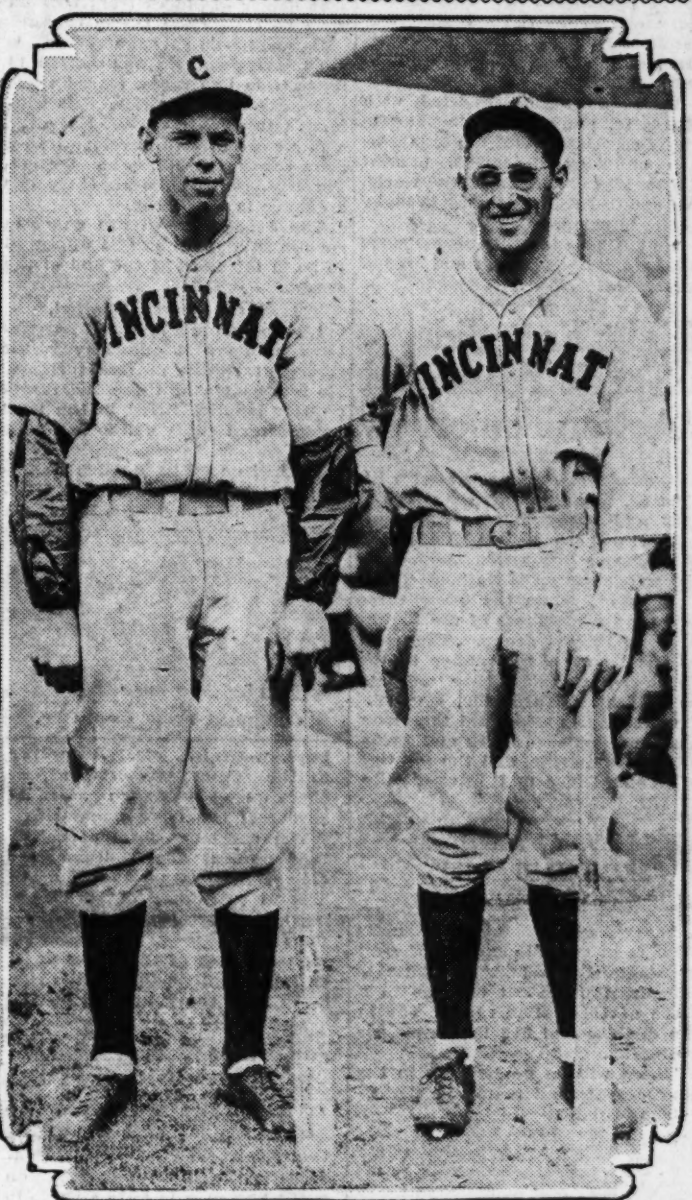

The resolution calls upon members of the post to co-operate with Bandy and upon the Governor to make a change in the personnel of the commission in this district, if necessary. Downs drew up the resolution at the instance of the Executive Committee.

The conclusion of the resolution follows:

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Fred W. Stockham Post declare its confidence in its boxing committee, and its backing of Edward Vandeventer, and that it instructs its boxing committee to co-operate with said Edward Vandeventer in any way possible and to bring full evidence of this situation to the attention of the Governor of the State of Missouri and to the National Boxing Commission and to the press.

The Stockham Post was the first to take out a license when the new state law was passed and has been active in boxing here almost continuously since. The money gained by the post for the use of its license has been spent for wounded veterans of the war confined to the hospital at Jefferson Barracks. The membership of the post numbers more than 300.

Come High, But They're Worth It

Babe Herman (left) and Chick Hafey are two reasons why Dan Howley of the Reds is smiling broadly these days. They are the heavy guns of the Cincinnati broadside. Herman's salary being $16,500 and Hafey's $17,000; but indications are they will be worth that much to the Reds in attendance.

WRAY'S COLUMN

Turning on the Heat.
THE boys are beginning to put the "heat" on our Cardinals. The "What's the matter with the Cardinals?" is being answered, as might be expected, by references to the loss of Grimes and Hafey and the failure to retain Hack Wilson.

Probably any club would be better off for having such a trio among its replacements. But their absence, at this stage of the season, is not what's causing the failure of the team to function. The pitchers are not pitching and the hitters haven't altogether located the apple.

That a good team should make a weak start is nothing new in baseball history, any more than that a bad club should make a flashy getaway.

The standings reveal that two clubs picked to finish well down in the second division are leading the two major league marathons. Three out of four teams which this morning are in first division in the National League, were picked to finish in the second division.

Behold the Giants!
THE New York club, which has been selected as the runner-up team in this year's National League struggle, is next to last. The Cardinals' rivals in the world series, the Athletics, have just broken even in games played and are in fourth position.

When Old Sol turns on the heat, all the wrinkles will be ironed out and the meritorious clubs will climb up where they belong.

The Cardinals will be up there, even though their outfield has not impressed observers. It was mentioned in this column before the season that, with Hafey out, the only department of the club that might falter was the outfield.

Watkins will have to regain his hitting stride of two years ago or the season that, with Hafey out, the only department of the club that might falter was the outfield.

BATTERY A GETS FRANCHISE IN NATIONAL FOOTBALL LEAGUE

GUNNERS TO BE STRENGTHENED; WILL SCHEDULE LEADING TEAMS

By L. A. McMaster.

St. Louis will be represented in the National Professional Football League next season by the Battery A "Gunners," Capt. Robert Sampson, of the Battery announced today. A league franchise at a cost of $2500, already has been obtained by Sampson, who said the club of 1932 would be built around the best players of the 1931 Gunners, last year an independent team.

About six or seven home games are planned for Sunday afternoons, and the attractions sought are Chicago Bears or Chicago Cardinals, Portsmouth Spartans, the champion Green Bay Packers, New York Giants, Cleveland Indians, Boston or Brooklyn and another new member of the league, either Cincinnati or Pittsburgh. About six road games will be scheduled, and it is likely there will be a pre-season game with a non-league team, about the middle of September. The regular schedule would begin in that month, also.

The exact schedule will not be known until after the league's meeting in July, when dates are arranged. Twelve clubs will make up the league, the other being the Staten Island Staple and the Providence Steam Rollers.

A coach of national standing is being sought for the club to take the place of Jimmy Conzelmann, who coached the Gunners last fall and who now is directing football activities at Washington University. Capt. Sampson has no idea yet who will be obtained, but said he had been informed by Joe Carr of Columbus, O., president of the league, that men who have held coaching berths with some of the biggest schools in the country are seeking jobs.

To compete against the pro game's stars, such as Red Grange, Ed Cagle, Benny Friedman, "Father" Lumpkin, Ken Strong, Bronko Nagurski, Herb Joesting and others, Sampson said the Gunners would have players who have attracted nation-wide attention in gridiron circles.

Red Sauselle, former Washington U. star and ace of the Gunners of 1931, will be in the lineup again, said Sampson. He expects to have back May McLain, full-back, and Roy Baker, quarterback, also. Other players were bright stars during the last few games of last season with the Battery A aggregation. No players have been signed to date.

No arrangement has been made by the Gunners so far for a field to play on, or for a practice field, but Sampson has begun negotiations for a place for workouts. Last season the Gunners played at public schools stadium.

One dollar general admission will be charged, according to Sampson, who said also that boxes and reserved seats would be available at higher prices.

Experience of the league is that it takes about $4500 to hold the most expensive of pro games, and that the average cost does not fall much below that figure. Sampson predicts gate receipts will take care of all expenses and declares the Gunners will hold the fort, anyway.

Playing eight games last season, against independent teams up to the last Sunday, the Gunners worked up to a peak attendance of more than 10,000, the biggest crowd ever to attend a pro football game in St. Louis, when Ernie Nevers and his Chicago Cardinals headed Sauselle and Co. a 26-6 trimming.

J. W. (Bud) Yates, who organized last season's team and arranged its games, has not been included in the organization for the coming season.

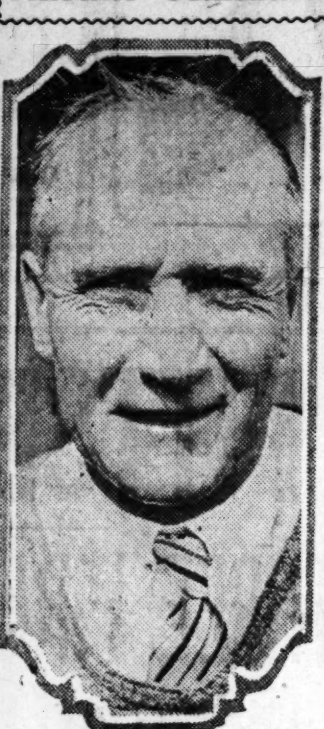

Victor Gimarino To Box Schafer

Carl Schafer, senior lightweight champion of the Mississippi Valley A. A., and Victor Gimarino, holder of both Missouri and Illinois titles in the featherweight division, will meet in a special bout announced today by Matchmaker Willie Miller as one of the interclub features of next Tuesday night's amateur boxing, to occur at the South Broadway A. C.

Schafer boxes in the colors of the E-K Athletic Club while Gimarino represents the Jefferson A. C. They have agreed to fight for 130 pounds. Schafer's normal weight and the figure at which he fought when he captured the lightweight crown two months ago. Another special feature of the South Broadway program brings together Earl Taylor of the E-K squad, senior middleweight champion of the Valley organization, and Eddie Edson of the National A. A., in a return match which will afford the hard-hitting Edson a chance to redeem the defeat he suffered when Taylor won a close decision over him in the annual title competition.

Tourney officials are seeking a capable flyweight puncher to send against Harold "Spider" Kaderabek of the South Broadway team, in another star bout. The tourney has attracted entries from 37 scrappers who will draw for pairings in the open events supporting the special portion of the card.

Another Comeback

JEROME TRAVERS, who won four national amateur championships in 1907, 1908, 1912 and 1913, and who also won the open title in 1915, has resumed golf practice at his home in Montclair, N. J., although he has been out of the game since 1919. He is planning a return to competition as a "business man golfer," made famous by George von Elm Travers, who won his first national title at the age of 20, was almost as famous in his day as was Bobby Jones in his time.

The Passing Show.

THE Cardinals and Connie's A's have not been singing "Happy days" Are they again, oh no! But they will get on top again. Where with the leaders they'll remain.

Instead of down below. The Giants started with a slump. And hit the bottom with a pump. That shook them fore and aft. It made the Cincinnati grin. When Howley's boys began to win, And Bill McKeechie laughed.

The Cards' and Giants' sorry sex So tickled all the other six. They nearly split their lips. And gave the world to understand. That they propose to try their hand At winning championships.

Jim Landon slammed McCready down, And Earl's attempt to grab his. Turned out to be in vain. Till Jim and Lewis come to terms. Among the Curley pachyderms. As champion Jim will reign.

Not Bad. Jimmy Landon time for the McCready match was 48:44. Not a track record but very fair considering that the going was a bit heavy.

Jimmy might have strung it out a little longer but he had to catch a train for Detroit, where he had a date to throw Gino Garibaldi for the tenth time.

Looks Like First Division. With a regular ball team Cincinnati leading the National attendance. Every day will be opening day by and bye.

Cincinnati probably has more fair-weather fans and fewer of the win-lose-or-draw variety than any town in the circuit.

Speaking of Operations. "Doctors in Building Demand Rent Out of 35 Per Cent." OPERATIONS are cheaper. Now's the time to cut the rent. Our patients are healthy. And few of them wealthy.

NEW PROMOTER PLANS BOXING AT THE ARENA

Willus Britt, who has been connected with the boxing game in various cities, is laying plans for the promotion of boxing shows at The Arena this summer. He has arranged with Tom Parks for the use of the building and is to see Seneca Taylor, State Athletic Commissioner for the St. Louis district, to arrange for dates. Britt plans to hold his first show the third week in May.

Britt has been signed as one of Mike Schmeling's trainers for the coming contest of the champion with Jack Sharkey. Willus said he would go through with that, but in a conversation with Joe Jacobs, one of Schmeling's managers, Jacobs told him that the bout would not be held until July. There was a story out of New York yesterday announcing a possible postponement of the bout from its original date of June 16.

He has been in St. Louis for some weeks, acting as trainer and second for several boxers.

125 MOTORISTS ARRAIGNED IN CITY LICENSE CAMPAIGN

At Same Time 103 Who Exhibit Receipts Are Discharged by Court.

Charged with having failed to display city licenses on the front of their automobiles as provided by a new ordinance, 125 persons were arraigned in Police Court today and discharged.

At the same time 103 persons, charged with operating cars without city licenses, were discharged when they exhibited receipts showing they had purchased plates since their arrest.

The new ordinance contains no provision whereby a motorist whose license has been stolen can obtain another for a nominal charge. Under the present laws, stolen plates must be replaced by motor car owners at the original cost.

Judge Blaine has recommended to the Board of Aldermen that the license ordinance be amended so that theft-proof license stickers are provided, or drivers are permitted to replace stolen plates for about 50 cents.

ENGLAND'S TARIFFS TO BE DOUBLED AT MIDNIGHT MONDAY

Duties on Most Manufactured Goods Increased From 10 to 20 Pct.; 25 or 30 Pct. on Luxuries.

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, April 22.—At midnight Monday, the British tariff wall goes up to twice its present height. The import duties advisory committee recommended last night that the duties be raised from 10 to 20 per cent on almost every kind of manufactured product imported, effective at that time. Under the present law duties average about 10 per cent.

The advisory committee described the new policy thus: "For most manufactured goods an additional duty of 10 per cent, making 20 per cent in all. On a limited number of others, for which a lower rate seems appropriate, total duty will be 15 per cent, and for certain articles of luxury or semi-luxury character, total duties will be 25 or 30 per cent."

On semi-finished steel goods the committee placed a duty of 33 1/2 per cent for three months pending study to fix a more permanent schedule.

When the new rates go into effect the orders previously issued under the abnormal importations act, which imposed an ad valorem duty of 50 per cent on certain classes of goods, will be revoked. Most of the commodities affected will then take the 20 per cent rate. Included in the 20 per cent category are most articles of pottery and glassware, cutlery, machinery and tools other than agricultural machinery, and electrical goods. Others are textile manufactures except yarns, apparel, boots, shoes, saddlery, harness, paper and paper manufactures, rubber and rubber manufactures, wood and wood manufactures, certain canned goods, vegetables, metal furniture and numerous miscellaneous items.

The 15 per cent category includes agricultural machinery and tools, and a considerable range of building materials, such as roofing, tiles, slates and plate and sheet glass.

In the 25 per cent category are fruit pulp, unexposed sensitized photographic paper, leather trunks and bags, sporting guns, ammunition, sports goods and games.

Duties of 30 per cent are to be imposed on toilet preparations and requisites, artificial flowers, jewelry and the wares of goldsmiths and silversmiths.

ALUMINUM CO. MOTION DENIED

Court Refuses to Dismiss $9,000,000 Damage Suit.

HARTFORD, Conn., April 22.—Federal Judge Edwin S. Thomas yesterday denied a motion of the Aluminum Co. of America, defendant in a $9,000,000 damage suit brought by the Bausch Machine Tool Co. of Springfield, Mass., to dismiss the action for lack of jurisdiction.

The Bausch Co. charged the Aluminum Co. of America, a Pennsylvania Corporation, with monopoly and price fixing in selling its products, which are similar to those made by the Massachusetts firm. The Bausch Co. asks damages of $9,000,000, which under the anti-trust act would be trebled if the suit is won.

Judge Thomas denied the motion on the ground it would mean a separate suit.

Seven Years for Robber.

Frank Smith, 30 years old, of Granite City, was sentenced to seven years in the penitentiary today by Circuit Judge Ossing. He pleaded guilty to two robbery charges. Smith was arrested March 12 after leaving a filling station at Union boulevard and Patton avenue, where he had robbed the attendant of $12. He also held up the attendant in a station at 213 Clara avenue, taking $40.

Clara avenue, taking $40.

ILLINOIS ASSEMBLY RATIFIES "LAME DUCK" AMENDMENT

Tenth State to Pass Resolution—Penalty Date for Cook County 1930 Taxes Put at May 1.

By the Associated Press.
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 22.—After setting the penalty date for 1930 Cook County taxes at May 1, the General Assembly today recessed until Tuesday when sine die adjournment is expected.
The bill was passed by the House early in the week and was amended in the House yesterday. It must now go back to the lower branch for concurrence in the amendments, before being sent to the Governor for his signature.
The Senate passed and sent to the Governor a bill authorizing cities where taxes have not been placed into collection to issue bonds without referendum for the purpose of purchasing and funding their tax warrants.
A House bill permitting building and loan associations to borrow up to 10 per cent of their assets for the retiring of stock also was approved by the Senate and sent to the Governor.
The upper house yesterday completed ratification of the proposed "lame duck" amendment to the Federal Constitution, adopting the resolution unanimously. Illinois is the tenth State to ratify this amendment, submitted by Congress. Three-fourths of the states must ratify it.
The Senate also passed a bill which would give to Mayor Anton Cermak of Chicago power to appoint an Alderman to fill the Twenty-second Ward vacancy, thereby saving expense of an election. The Mayor must have consent of three-fourths of the City Council.
Barr and Courtney Clash.
An exhibition of political points of view came when President Pro Tem Richard Barr of Joliet, sought to amend a joint resolution introduced by Minority Leader Thomas J. Courtney, Chicago. Courtney's resolution would have requested the Governor to instruct all department heads that a reduction of 10 per cent in all appropriations shall be effective not later than May 1. Barr wanted to amend the resolution so that it would apply not only to the Governor but also to the Mayor of Chicago and president of the Cook County Board.
Courtney contended the State had nothing to do with the affairs of Chicago or Cook County, but Barr countered by saying that the State has plenty of interest in any county that owes $42,000,000 to the State Treasury.
Several Senators on the Democratic side of the floor arose to remind Barr that a 10 to 20 per cent cut had already been affected in Chicago, but Barr replied that "if we could see Democratic payrolls in Cook County, it would astonish the State."
A motion to table Barr's amendment to the resolution was defeated.
Bills for Salary Cuts.
A bill making reductions in the salary of State employees working under the civil administrative code was passed by the Senate yesterday and sent to the House.
Reduction of the salary of members of the Legislature from $3500 to $3000 for the two-year term was provided in a bill that was sent to passage stage after being read for amendment. The bill provides, however, that the members shall be paid $5 for each day of special sessions. Under the present law they receive no compensation for extra meetings.
Senator Barr opposed leaving the salary of legislators at $3000, arguing that a further cut should be made. He pointed out that no saving would be made if a lengthy special session were called.
The House Democrats introduced a resolution seeking to revive the interest suits now pending in the Sangamon County Circuit Court against Andrew Russell and Lieutenant-Governor Fred Sterling, former Republican State Treasurers.
Representative James T. Burns of Kankakee introduced the resolution asking the Attorney-General to report to the Assembly on the status of the suit and his intentions in the matter.
Judge Truman Snell of Carlinville, who was defeated for the Democratic nomination for Attorney-General in the recent primary election, backed up Burns, but a solid Republican vote sent the resolution to the Judiciary Committee, which is tantamount to killing it.
Senator Barr introduced bills to provide the second $20,000,000 through a bond issue underwritten by the State gasoline tax. In event the $40,000,000 in bonds are not approved at the November election, however, the relief appropriations would necessitate a large increase in the tax rate.

30 OHIO HIGH SCHOOL PUPILS HURT WHEN BUS IS UPSET

Machine Is Overturned When Passing Automobile Cuts in Ahead of It.

By the Associated Press.
ST. CLAIRSVILLE, O., April 22.—Thirty high school students from Fairview, Guernsey County, were injured, two probably fatally, early today when the bus in which they were riding collided with an automobile and overturned near here.
The bus, on the way to Pittsburgh, Pa., for a tour of industrial plants, was wrecked when a passing automobile cut in front of it, causing the driver of the bus to turn his vehicle sharply. The bus overturned as the cars crashed.
Betty Ironald, 17 years old, suffered a broken back, and Elizabeth Reed, 16, was internally hurt. The others were bruised and cut. All were pupils at the Oxford High School at Fairview.

KANSAS BANKER KILLS SELF

FRANKFORT, Kan., April 22.—The body of O. V. Lohmuller, missing cashier of the closed Beattie State Bank, was found in a pasture half a mile south of here today. A garden hose had been attached to the motor exhaust and carried into the closed car. Identification was made by motor license documents on the body.
The Beattie Bank failed to open last Monday. The cashier had disappeared Friday. Officers said no irregularities had been found and that "depleted resources" caused the closing.

S. AWAKENING TO DRY EVILS, SAYS J. A. REED

former Senator Declares Boot-legger Is Worse Than Old Time Saloon.

PERCY ROCKEFELLER
BRUSH ON 100

Wall Street Rega-Bulls by Prefer-
ish When Adv-

By the Associated Press.
KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 22.—
Some again after an absence due to a major operation, former Senator James A. Reed, Missouri's candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, expressed today that "the country is awakening to the fact prohibition has brought a flood of evil in its wake."

Action of the Republicans of Missouri favoring resubmission of the eighteenth amendment, brought observations on prohibition from Reed.

"When you find a political party demanding a referendum of some kind," the former Senator said,
backed by some of the most ardent drys, and when you find a tremendous increase in the votes of Congress for a change, it looks though the country is awakening to the fact prohibition has brought a flood of evil in its
wake."

"Bad as the old saloon was," he continued, "the bootlegger and his criminals are a great deal worse. The people are learning it is not necessary to re-establish the saloon in order to get rid of the bootlegger."

"Also, I believe," he said with emphasis, "that the people are becoming to be convinced the States
can handle the problem better than the Federal Government and certainly better than it has been handled."

Reed expressed his appreciation for the action of the Democratic convention in endorsing him
for the presidency.

BOSTON CREAM PIE
WITH OUSTARD FILLING

Two eggs, one cup flour, one and a half teaspoons baking powder, three-fourths cup sugar, one-eighth teaspoon salt, one-half cup boiling milk, one-half teaspoon vanilla extract.

Add beaten egg yolks to stiffly beaten whites and gradually add flour, baking powder, sugar and salt which have been sifted together three or four times; add hot milk very slowly; add vanilla. Bake in deep layer cake tin in moderate oven about 35 minutes. When cool, split and put between layers the following filling. Sprinkle powdered sugar on top of cake.

Filling:
Half cup sugar, two tablespoons

corn starch, one-eighth teaspoon of salt, two eggs, one cup scalded milk, one teaspoon butter, half a teaspoon vanilla extract.
Mix sugar, corn starch, salt and beaten eggs; pour on gradually scalded milk; add butter; cook in double boiler until thick and smooth, stirring constantly; add flavoring; cool and spread between layers.

Celery Salt.
Next time you prepare cold salad, substitute celery salt for the plain in the dressing, and see how good it tastes.

Cheese and Potatoes.
Add one-quarter cup grated cheese to potatoes when mashing, then put in oven and brown a little.

RIPE TOMATO COCKTAILS

Skin six good-sized, very ripe but sound tomatoes and put through a sieve. Using fine knives on food chopper, chop a medium-sized green pepper, two stalks celery, a small onion, a leaf or two of cabbage, a small raw carrot and a tiny bit of garlic if the flavor is liked. Mix well and add the tomato juice.

Season with salt, pepper and one-half teaspoon sugar. Chill thoroughly and before serving in cocktail or sherbet glasses, add to each glass a tablespoon French dressing highly seasoned, or a teaspoon mayonnaise. Stir thoroughly. A little horseradish added to each portion is liked by some.

PARSLEY POTATOES

Pare and cook new potatoes tender in salted water. For one-half dozen potatoes thicken one and one-half cups milk with two tablespoons butter and one tablespoon flour blended.

Drain potatoes, put in fresh saucepan and pour the sauce over

STRAWBERRY SALAD
Two cupful ripe strawberries, one cupful celery cubes, heart leaves of lettuce, whole nut meats, one-half cupful chopped pecan meats, one-half cupful French dressing, whipped cream. Combine strawberries, chopped nut meats and celery cubes. Marinate in the dressing, arrange on lettuce, and top with whipped cream and whole nut meats, or a sprig of fresh mint.

LUNCHEON CASSEROLES ARE COMPLETE MEALS
Pork Chops, Hash and Stuffed Steak May Be Served Thus.
For the luncheon when a substantial dish is desired which is practically the whole meal, there is nothing better than a casserole concoction. A little lettuce and stewed fruit will nicely complete the menu.
Here are three which have been found to be tasty and satisfying:
Pork Chops.
In a buttered casserole place alternate layers of thinly sliced potatoes, using two and one-half, and one-fourth cup finely chopped onion, sprinkling each layer lightly with salt and pepper.
Over potatoes and onions place six pork chops sprinkled with salt and browned in a skillet. Over all pour one small can or about one cup of cream of tomato soup. Bake in a hot oven for about 45 minutes until potatoes are tender and flavored richly with pork and tomato.
Baked Hash.
Mix three cups cooked meat (chopped veal, pork or combination of meats), two cups fresh bread crumbs, one cup cream of pea soup and a dash of pepper. Put in a buttered casserole, cover with buttered crumbs, and bake for 20 minutes in a moderately hot oven.
Beef and Spaghetti.
Trim one large slice round steak, cut very thin, and rub flour well into both sides. Spread one can cooked spaghetti over one-half of steak, and sprinkle with one minced green pepper; fold other half of meat over and sew edges together or fasten together with toothpicks.
Brown meat in hot fat in skillet. Sprinkle with salt and pepper and pour one cup hot water in skillet or change to casserole. Cover and bake in moderate oven, basting often.
SAVORY MEAT LOAF WITH CRUMB STUFFING
One and one-half pounds round steak, ground; one egg, well beaten; one-half cupful milk, one and one-half teaspoonfuls salt, one-fourth teaspoonful pepper, one tablespoonful Worcestershire sauce, one cupful soft bread crumbs, one-half teaspoon sage, one tablespoonful grated onion, four tablespoonfuls melted fat.
Combine meat, beaten egg, milk, one teaspoonful salt, one-eighth teaspoonful pepper and Worcestershire sauce. Line the bottom and sides of a loaf pan with this mixture. Make a stuffing by combining bread crumbs, one-half teaspoonful salt, the sage, one-eighth teaspoonful pepper, grated onion and melted fat.
Fill center of pan with this mixture. Cover top with more of the meat mixture. Cook in hot oven for 45 minutes. Serve with tomato sauce.

FANCY BISCUITS ARE LUNCHEON FAVORITES

Fruit, Nuts, Ginger, Cheese or Marmalade May Be Added to Plain Dough.

Plain, hot biscuits, when they are light as a feather are good, but there are occasions when we yearn for variety. Especially is this true at luncheon or tea time, when slightly sweet or spicy flavors are appreciated.

Once you become interested in the subject of fancy biscuits, muffins or buns it is astonishing how many variations will occur to you and the fascinating flavor combinations and methods of serving that may be developed.

If you have mastered the art of making good biscuit dough, you can vary it by adding finely chopped nuts, spice, chopped candied ginger, grated cheese, cherries, dried fruit, coconut, cocoa, etc. The biscuits may be cut in fancy shapes by the use of small cutters, or rolled up like a jelly roll and sliced, or baked in tiny patty cake pans that have been buttered and spread with honey or sprinkled with chopped nuts or brown sugar.

Ginger or Orange Biscuits.
Ginger biscuits are one of the nicest kinds of hot bread to serve with a fruit salad, or with a salad made from preserved figs stuffed with cream cheese. To make them, sift two cups flour with four teaspoons baking powder, one teaspoon salt and one tablespoon sugar. Rub in one-third cup butter or vegetable shortening and a half cup chopped, crystallized ginger. Mix to a soft dough with three-quarter cup milk and turn out on a floured board.

Pat to a scant half-inch thickness, shape with a very small cutter and place on a greased baking sheet. Place a tiny piece of ginger on top of each biscuit and bake in a hot oven for eight to ten minutes. If you are not fond of ginger substitute chopped, candied orange peel, or equal parts of orange peel and citron for the ginger.

Fruit Biscuits.
Cranberry biscuits use the same recipe for ginger biscuits, but use three-fourths cup raw cranberries instead of the ginger. Three-fourths cup blueberries instead of cranberries make blueberry tea cakes; ripe, pitted or drained canned cherries may be used in the same way.

Cheese Biscuits.
Cheese biscuits are fine with vegetable salads. Use the recipe just given, omitting the sugar and substituting one-half cup grated cheese for the ginger. If wanted for afternoon tea, it is nice to make them a day ahead of time, then split and toast them for tea. Or make them for dinner one night, and make enough to have some left over for next day's tea.

Marmalade Biscuits.
Marmalade biscuits are always attractive. Make biscuit dough as for ginger biscuits, omitting ginger. Roll dough in a long sheet about one-fourth inch thick and spread with softened butter and then with thick orange or apricot marmalade. Roll up tightly like a jelly roll, slice down in half-inch slices and bake on a greased pan in a moderate oven for 10 to 15 minutes. Or small round biscuits may be made, and a deep dent made in the center of each with your thumb. Fill this with marmalade and bake as above.

Ice Cream Freezing.
It has been discovered that the old proportions of ice and salt for hand-turned freezers is not correct. Formerly, the usual rule was three times more ice than salt. That's a waste of salt, experts say now, and they advise that only one part of salt be used to eight parts of ice. Fill the freezer one-third full of chopped ice before adding any salt.

One secret of getting ahead

You need good health to succeed. Many a man has seen his chances go because he was too sick to keep pace with competition. Often his poor health was due to constipation. This ailment frequently causes headaches, loss of energy, sleeplessness. It takes the "punch" out of your day's work.

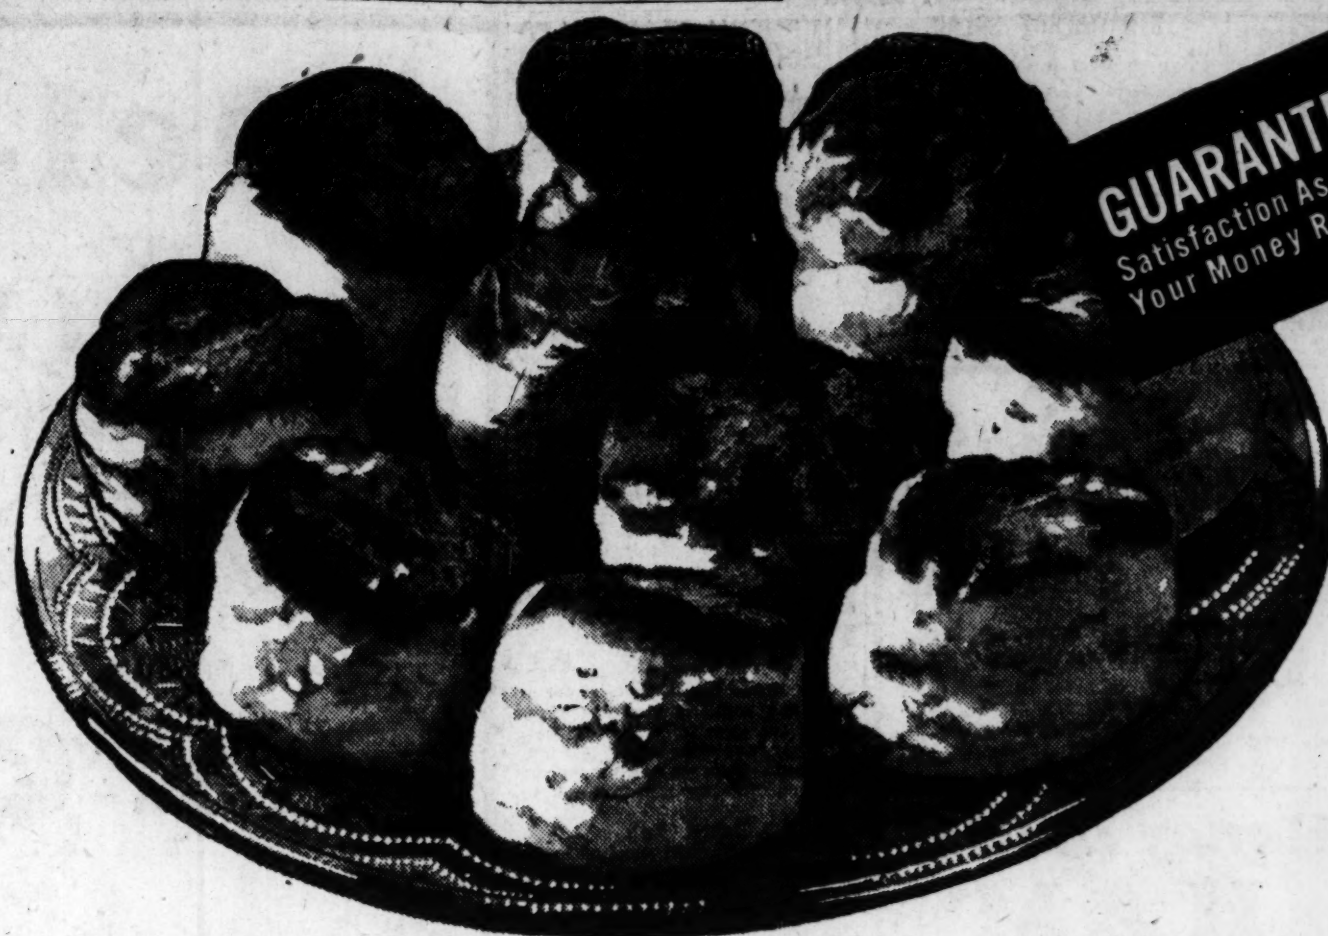

Try eating Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. Science shows this delicious cereal supplies "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and Vitamin B to tone the intestinal tract. Also iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that of lettuce. How much easier than using pills and drugs—so often habit-forming.

Two tablespoons daily will correct most types of constipation. If your intestinal trouble is not relieved this way, see your doctor.

In the red-and-green package. At all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

SPRING SALADS ARE THE BEST OF ALL SPRING MEDICINES

A fresh green salad in the spring. Brings health to peasant, priest and so sang an old poet, and so echoes the advocate of good health and good nutrition. Spring greens on the table instead of sulphur and molasses on the kitchen shelf as a panacea against the ills of spring—there's a sensible plan for you, and one that is rapidly being accepted. Indeed, it is only in exceptional cases nowadays that the old-fashioned remedy for "spring fever" makes an appearance.

In the old days, when winter diets were decidedly restricted, there was possibly need for such drastic treatment; nowadays modern methods of food transportation, canning, refrigeration and storage make possible a more varied diet all year round, and make for better health.

CHICKEN PATTIES FOR BRIDGE CLUB OF THIRTY MEMBERS

One of our readers wants to know how much chicken will be needed to make chicken patties for a club of 30 members. The answer is about three quarts of cooked, diced chicken. Since most people prefer to use both white and dark meat for patties, this means two large fowl weighing between five and six pounds each, or three smaller ones.

Steam the chickens whole, allowing two to three hours for cooking. To steam them, truss, or tie the legs and wings securely to the body, place in a large kettle with about two inches of boiling water in the kettle. Cover closely and cook until tender.

A wire rack or trivet placed in the bottom of the kettle will help in preventing the chicken sticking to the kettle. An inverted plate may also be used to hold chickens from the bottom of pan. Season with salt when half cooked.

BROWN GRAVY GOOD WITH GAME OR ROAST

Savory Liquid Needs to Be Carefully Prepared to Be Successful.

There's nothing more disappointing than a lumpy, tasteless or colorless gravy, whether served with meat or game, but, alas, that is often the case, as many women fall down when they come to preparing a rich and appetizing brown gravy. Meat gravies are usually mixed in the pan in which meat is cooked, as fat and meat extracts, or juices, remaining in the pan add flavor and color to the gravy. Pour off most of fat in roasting pan after meat is done, leaving two or three tablespoons. Add an equal amount of flour and stir until well blended. Put pan over a slow heat and continue stirring until bubbling. Now stir in two cups cold water and keep stirring and cooking until gravy is boiling, smooth and slightly thickened. It should be a little thicker than heavy cream. Season with salt and pepper.

When flour is browned, as it is in making brown gravy and brown sauces, some of the starch in the flour is changed into a substance called dextrin which has not the same thickening power as starch. For this reason a little more flour is used in brown sauces or gravies than in the white sauces of the same thickness.

Brown Gravy for Steak.
Brown gravy is served with roast beef, pork, lamb, veal, chicken and turkey. Steaks and chops occasionally, though in this case it is usually very thin—a tablespoon flour to one and one-half cups water. If by any chance the roast has been cooked so that there is no browned stock or liquid in the pan (meat cooked in a covered pan is sometimes light in color), add flour and stir until mixture is well browned before adding water. Be careful that flour does not scorch. Have water ready to pour in the instant that flour mixture has reached a rich, deep tan.

Caramel Coloring.
If you have made gravy that is weak and pale looking, you may add a few drops of seasoning sauce, or make a caramel mixture that will add color. The caramel will color, but not flavor, the gravy, since sugar loses its sweetness when it is caramelized. Put one-fourth cup sugar in a small frying pan and stir constantly over a slow fire until sugar is melted and a rich brown in color. Remove from fire and stir in one-third cup boiling water. Be careful, as mixture will sputter and steam when water is added. Stir over a slow fire again until smooth. Pour into a small bottle and keep on hand for coloring. A teaspoonful or so will do the trick.

Brown Steaks.
In making steaks, brown meat in a little fat in the saucepan in which stew is to be cooked. First cut meat in pieces and sprinkle liberally with flour. When well browned, add water and go on with the cooking in your usual manner. Stew made in this way has a richness of flavor that cannot be achieved in any other way. It is one of the secrets all good cooks know.

POTATO SALAD SET IN MOLD OF TOMATO JELLY

Four cupsful cold cooked potatoes, diced, one-half cupful mayonnaise, one-half cupful cream, two tablespoonsful minced green pepper, one-fourth teaspoon paprika, two teaspoonfuls salt, three stalks celery, diced small, one-fourth cupful vinegar, two tablespoonfuls of chopped onion, one tablespoonful chopped chives.

Mix the potatoes and celery and add a dressing made of the rest of the ingredients. Make the aspic as follows:

Tomato Jelly.
One quart cooked tomatoes, one tablespoonful gelatin, half cupful raw carrot, diced; one sprig parsley, one teaspoonful peppercorns, one teaspoonful salt, one cupful celery, diced; quarter cupful cold water, one onion, sliced, three cloves, one small blade mace, few grains cayenne, one green pepper, cut small.

Cook all ingredients except gelatin and cold water together for 30 minutes. Strain. Pour over the gelatin which has been soaked in the cold water and stir until gelatin is dissolved. Cover bottom of a loaf pan with some of the aspic, add the potato salad, and then the rest of the aspic. Cool and set in the refrigerator to harden.

BROWN SUGAR BUNS

Two cups flour, four teaspoons baking powder, one-half teaspoon salt, one tablespoon shortening, two-thirds cup milk, one tablespoon butter, one cup brown sugar.

Sift together flour, baking powder and salt; add shortening and rub in very lightly; add milk slowly to make a soft dough; roll out one-fourth inch thick on floured board. Have butter soft and spread over dough; cover with brown sugar. Roll same as jelly roll; cut into one and one-half inch pieces and place with cut edges up on well-greased pan. Bake in moderate oven about 30 minutes; remove from pan at once.

Currant Biscuits.
Sift one pint flour with two teaspoons baking powder. Cream half a cup of mixed butter and lard with small cup sugar. Add one cup milk, flour mixture and one cup currants. Bake in hot oven,

BLACK BASS AND PIKE NOW LOWER IN PRICE

Favorite Fish Cheaper Than They Have Been in Many Years.

Among the comparatively new arrivals of fish are black bass and yellow pike, and one day this week both could be bought for 25 cents per pound, which is about 10 cents less per pound than they have been for a long time.

Trout is cheaper, too, as well as many other varieties so fish lovers may indulge to their hearts' content.

So many St. Louis women fail to understand what a wide variety of delicious fresh fish they can obtain in this city," said a prominent dealer last week. "Just now, there are more varieties at lower prices than there have been for 10 years."

Fish is an easily digested food, and if well prepared is generally liked by all in the family, so why not go fish bargain hunting while there are so many opportunities? Fish, in addition to its nutritive value, also has an iodine content which makes it a valuable addition to the diet.

A great deal of the lack of interest in fish is due to the fact that when it comes to many tables it is badly cooked and not attractively served. Whether you bake, broil or fry fish, do it carefully.

SPRAGUS SHOULD BE SERVED FREQUENTLY

Prices Bring This Delicacy Within Reach of Average Budgets.

While some of the finer spring vegetables are still rather high in price, asparagus is coming down to the level of the average home budget, and the more often it appears at dinner time, the better pleased will be the family, for it does not like this delicious vegetable.

Asparagus is rich in minerals and is at its best when simply cooked. It is a vegetable that is mentioned through the ages from the times of the early Greeks and Romans, and the directions that are given a hundred years ago for cooking it are just about the same as those used today.

Old French cook books tell how to serve asparagus hot with melted butter, or cold with oil and vinegar. No fancy, modern methods can surpass either of these, for when properly cooked, asparagus needs no "dressing up."

Cooking Directions.
To cook asparagus so as to retain all its flavor and wash stalks, rinse heads and down in cold water of any sand or grit. Cut ends of stalks and keep near the same length. Tie together in bunches of 10 stalks, and stand right in a deep saucepan enough boiling water to cover stalks to within of the tops.

This allows the tender cooked by steam, while portion is cooked direct boiling water. Cover 25 to 30 minutes. Drain, place on thin buttered toast and serve sauce.

This may be made with melted butter with a water in which asparagus is cooked, or by working so cream with a teaspoon lemon juice and paper. Soften the butter over and pour at once over egg.

Asparagus Tips.
Grease six small meat four cooked asparagus or four inches long, tips to the bottom. A bunch of cooked inch pieces. Melt two butter, add two table and then stir in one teaspoon salt and a When thickened, add four well beaten egg.

ASPARAGUS SHOULD BE SERVED FREQUENTLY

Cheaper Prices Bring This Delicacy Within Reach of Average Budgets.

While some of the finer spring vegetables are still rather high in price, asparagus is coming down to the level of the average home budget, and the more often appears at dinner time, the better pleased will be the family, for it does not like this delicious vegetable.

Asparagus is rich in minerals and is at its best when simply cooked. It is a vegetable that is mentioned through the ages from the times of the early Greeks and Romans, and the directions that were given a hundred years ago for cooking it are just about the same as those used today.

Old French cook books tell how to serve asparagus hot with melted butter, or cold with oil and vinegar; no fancy, modern methods can surpass either of these, for when properly cooked, asparagus needs no "dressing up."

Cooking Directions.
To cook asparagus so as to retain all its flavor and goodness wash stalks, rinse heads gently up and down in cold water to get rid of any sand or grit. Cut off tough ends of stalks and keep stalks as near the same length as possible. Tie together in bundles of from six to 10 stalks, and stand bundles upright in a deep saucepan containing enough boiling salted water to cover stalks to within two inches of the tops.

This allows the tender tips to be cooked by steam, while the tougher portion is cooked directly in the boiling water. Cover and boil for 25 to 40 minutes until tender. Drain, place on thin strips of buttered toast and serve with butter sauce.

This may be made by combining melted butter with a little of the water in which asparagus was cooked, or by working butter to a soft cream with a fork and adding lemon juice and paprika to season. Soften the butter over hot water and pour at once over the asparagus.

Asparagus Timbales.
Grease six small molds and place four cooked asparagus stalks, three or four inches long, in each mold, tips to the bottom. Cut the rest of a bunch of cooked asparagus in inch pieces. Melt two tablespoons butter, add two tablespoons flour and then stir in one cup milk, one teaspoon salt and a little pepper. When thickened, add gradually to four well beaten eggs. Stir in cut asparagus and fill molds with the mixture. Place in a pan of hot water and bake in a moderate oven for 30 minutes or until firm. Turn out, garnish with boiled, fresh peas and cream sauce.

Asparagus Soup.
Scrape the tough ends of asparagus, cut slantingly in slices, cover with cold water and heat slowly to boiling point. Add a small sliced onion and one teaspoon salt and simmer for 40 minutes. Rub through a coarse strainer and use pulp and juice as the base for a cream of asparagus soup. A few of the tips may be saved out, or any leftovers used to garnish the soup before serving. The ends from a large bunch cooked in this way make about two cups asparagus stock. This, with the addition of an equal amount of milk, makes soup for four persons.

LAMB AND PINEAPPLE GRILL

Have Saratoga chops cut from the boned and rolled shoulder of lamb. They will be about as big around as a slice of pineapple. Lay chops in a sizzling hot frying-pan, sear quickly on both sides. Then reduce temperature, turn chops frequently, and finish cooking at a low temperature. Do not add water or cover the pan. If any excess fat gathers, pour it off from time to time so that chops will broil, not fry. The chops will require from 10 to 15 minutes to cook.

Remove chops to a warm place;

return some of the discarded fat in pan and fry pineapple slices in the lamb fat. Arrange slices of pineapple and the broiled chops alternately on the platter. Garnish with watercress.

MARBLE LOAF CAKE WITH CRISS-CROSS CHOCOLATE ICING

Rub one-third cup shortening to a soft cream and gradually work in one cup fine granulated sugar. When well blended add three unbeaten egg whites, one at a time, beating each one in thoroughly before adding the next. Measure two cups sifted cake flour, mix with two teaspoons baking powder and one-fourth teaspoon salt. Sift and then add alternately with three-fourth cup milk and one teaspoon vanilla to the first mixture.

Beat until smooth. Take out about one-third of the mixture and add six tablespoons cocoa or two squares of melted unsweetened chocolate. Spread a thin layer of the white batter in a greased cake pan that is about three inches deep. Add alternate spoonful of the chocolate and white batters until all are used.

Bake in a moderate oven for 45 to 50 minutes. Cool and ice with boiled white icing, or with uncooked icing. When nearly firm, mark with criss-cross lines with melted chocolate, using a toothpick or small brush. Cut in squares for serving.

THREE METHODS OF SERVING
TENDER YOUNG BEETS

Wash beets without breaking skins, cut off tops two inches from roots. Steam or boil until tender, rinse with cold water, rub off skins, and season liberally with melted butter and a little salt and pepper. It takes about 45 minutes to cook young beets this way.

Heat two tablespoons butter, add one-half teaspoon onion juice, cook three minutes, add three cups of sliced cooked beets and one teaspoon minced parsley. Heat thoroughly and serve at once.

Heat half a cup of butter in frying pan, add three cups cubed cooked beets and cook until butter is about absorbed. Sprinkle with one teaspoon sugar, salt and pepper. Squeeze a little lemon juice over beets just before serving.

DISPLAYING NEW SHREDDED BISCUIT

Kellogg's WHOLE WHEAT Biscuit One of Most Improved Foods Introduced in Recent Years

Kellogg's WHOLE WHEAT Biscuits offer many new and outstanding features which appeal to the housewife. For one thing, the biscuits are toasted a golden brown on both top and bottom—not just one side. That seems to double the crispness.

The new Kellogg biscuit is also baked in a more convenient, economical size. Two biscuits just fit the cereal bowl—and you get 15 to the package instead of a dozen.

Mothers will especially be interested in the fact that every package is certified for food value by the Medical Arts Laboratory of Philadelphia. These new biscuits are considered a splendid food for both adults and children. With hot or cold milk or cream, they supply a healthful variety of vitamins, minerals, proteins and carbohydrates.

In baking these improved biscuits, the Kellogg Company uses a special process of "pressure-cooking" which retains all the food value of the whole wheat and makes it very easy to digest. At the same time it develops a tempting, delicious flavor.

These improved biscuits can be identified by the name, Kellogg's, and the familiar red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

FRUIT COCKTAIL ADDS
ZEST TO SPRING MEAL

Many Appetizing and Attractive Combinations Possible Just Now.

This is the season above others when the meal must be attractive as well as substantial to tempt the family, and there's nothing better to start it off than a fruit cocktail. Color and beauty may be given to the dinner by this opening course, and the clever woman will devise new and different combinations for frequent serving.

Try the following if your list is not already complete:
Banana and Strawberries.
Combine one cup diced bananas, one cup halved fresh strawberries, one tablespoon lemon juice, one-half cup sweetened grape juice. Chill and serve garnished with mint.

Pineapple and Mint.
Cut six slices of canned pineapple in dices, sprinkle with a little powdered sugar, and chill one hour. Blend with three tablespoons minced mint and two tablespoons orange juice. Chill and serve garnished with mint leaves.

Orange and Mint.
Substitute one and one-half cups diced seedless oranges for pineapple and grape juice for orange juice in the above recipe.

Fruit Juice.
Boil one-fourth cup sugar and one cup canned pineapple juice together, chill and combine with one cup orange juice, two tablespoons lemon juice. Serve in glasses half filled with crushed ice and garnish with fresh strawberries cut in halves.

NOODLE RINGS

When making noodle or spaghetti ring, try adding two tablespoons chopped chives or minced spring onions to the mixture before putting it in the mold. This is particularly good if the filling for ring is to be veal, lamb or beef. Leftover roast meat, cut in small dice and reheated in thickened gravy, is delicious when served in a noodle ring.

If you haven't a ring pan or mold, you'll find the modest cost a good investment for it makes meals attractive.

CLEAN-UP DRIVE IS INDORSED BY WOMEN

Civic Movement Has the Interest of Many This Week and Next.

St. Louis is in the midst of a city-wide "clean-up, paint-up, plant-up and fix-up" campaign, led by the Chamber of Commerce, Board of Education and other organizations, and naturally it is close to the hearts of many women.

Inside and out the home there are many opportunities to participate in the movement. If it is possible to give employment to a neighbor out of work, or to notify one of the relief agencies that employment will be given for a day or more, all the better.

Yards may be thoroughly cleaned, gardens planted, a little paint put here and there and repairs of many sorts attended to. Let the children help too, and make them understand the community spirit that has been aroused to make St. Louis a cleaner, more beautiful and more friendly city through the campaign's efforts.

Take a little money out of the housekeeping budget, and count it well spent to do your share, no matter how little, in this decidedly praiseworthy enterprise.

SUNDAY SUPPER FRITTERS
WITH PINEAPPLE OR APPLE

Sift three-quarters cup flour and one-quarter teaspoon salt, make a dent in center and pour into this yolks of two eggs well beaten, one teaspoon lemon juice, one teaspoon melted butter and one-quarter cup milk. Beat with spoon until well blended, add one-quarter cup more milk and last two stiffly beaten egg whites. Core, pare and cut apples into rather thin slices, sprinkle with lemon juice and sugar and let stand half an hour. Dip in batter and cook in shallow pan with a little hot fat until fritters are golden brown and apples are tender. Drain, sprinkle with sugar and serve with sauce.

Substitute well drained slices of pineapple for apples, omitting sugar when sprinkling with lemon juice, and proceed as for apple fritters, only it will not be necessary to cook quite so long.

Two New Inexpensive Salads With Fruit and Vegetables

Grated raw carrot mixed with twice as much cottage cheese and an equal amount of chopped salted peanuts make a healthful and satisfying luncheon salad. Shape into small balls and serve with lettuce and watercress. Mayonnaise, boiled dressing or French dressing may be used.

This carrot salad is fine to serve during the spring and summer months, as it is rich in minerals and vitamins. The nuts and cheese provide the necessary protein, so that with bread and butter it makes a well balanced meal.

Dried uncooked apricots, cut in very small pieces with scissors, are a delicious addition to pineapple salad. Sprinkle the apricots over the sliced pineapple and serve with cream dressing or mayonnaise. The deep color of the apricots and the yellow of the pineapple are as pleasing to the eye as is the contrast in flavors.

Peach Cups.
Drain canned peaches, and fill with mixture of chopped apples, celery and nut meats moistened with mayonnaise.

Veal Chops.
Season chops with salt and pepper. Dip in beaten egg, then in cracker crumbs and fry in rather deep, very hot lard.

CANNED LUNCHES FOR THE SPRING OUTINGS

Impromptu Excursions Are Easily Arranged With Pantry Shelf Help.

Now's the time when some member of the family will say on Saturday night, "Let's fix up a lunch and go off in the machine tomorrow for the spring picnic fever is on us, and we all want to take to the road."

More than ever it is important to keep the pantry well stocked with canned meats, fruits, vegetables and soups, for then you can smile cheerfully, and say, "No trouble at all about the lunch. How early do you want to start?"

Take along a big thermos bottle filled with canned soup heated before you put it in, make dozens and dozens of sandwiches, filling these with canned fish or meat, moistened with mayonnaise, canned beans with catsup, canned fruit, well drained and mixed with cream cheese, or any other of the many combinations possible.

If perhaps, you stop and cook your dinner, take a partly cooked piece of beef, cover it with the contents of cans of peas, corn and tomatoes, and you will have a stew so good that the only complaint will be that there is not enough of it.

Lots of bread and butter and coffee in thermos bottles are all that are needed to make the "canned picnic" so great a success that it will often be repeated as summer comes on.

USE REFRIGERATORS FOR FINEST DESSERTS

Ices, Ice Cream and Frozen Puddings Easily Prepared This Way.

Happy is the woman who has an automatic refrigerator as warmer weather comes on, for attractive and varied desserts may be served with ease.

Frozen fruit, fish and vegetable salads, pleasing to many, are also refrigerator products.

Saving of effort and time are other inducements for the use of an automatic refrigerator. For your dessert in the refrigerator and go off for several hours without worry, and then take it out and serve it. Could anything be more delightful for the busy housekeeper?

From time to time refrigerator recipes will be published in this section, and today we take up ices and ice cream. Remember that refrigerator freezing is a little different from the hand-turned freezer, so pay close attention to directions on your first attempt.

Lemon Ice.
Boil two cups sugar and four cup water with thinly peeled rind of one lemon together for five minutes. Remove rind, chill, add two-thirds cup lemon juice and one-fourth teaspoon salt. Pour into refrigerator tray, and stir several times when freezing. Take out twice, pour into cold bowl, and beat with egg beater. Before beating the second time, add white of one egg beaten a little. A little dissolved gelatin may be added to give perfect smoothness.

Vanilla Ice Cream.
Scald two cups milk in double boiler, add one cup sugar mixed with two tablespoons flour. Cook for about 20 minutes. Pour this over beaten yolks of two eggs, return to fire and cook two minutes more. Add to this mixture while hot one teaspoon of gelatin which has been soaked for five minutes in one tablespoon cold water. Chill. Whip one and one-half pints of heavy cream until very stiff, then fold into cooked mixture. Add every 10 minutes during the first hour of baking to prevent rice from settling.

RAISIN FRENCH TOAST
Raisin bread makes delicious French toast. Cut bread in slices half an inch thick—If it is two or three days old, so much the better. For six slices of toast, beat two eggs until light, add one-fourth teaspoon salt and one and one-half cups milk.

Mix, then dip each slice of bread in liquid, letting it remain for two or three seconds to a minute—the latter if the bread is stale. Lift carefully from the liquid and fry in a frying pan one-fourth full of hot fat. Brown on both sides and serve at once.

BAKED RICE PUDDING
Four cupfuls milk, one-third cupful rice, one-half teaspoonful salt, one-third cupful sugar, grated rind, one-half lemon.

Wash rice, mix ingredients, pour into a greased pudding dish, set in a pan of hot water and bake in a slow oven for three hours. Stir every 10 minutes during the first hour of baking to prevent rice from settling.

SOUPS FOR THE CHILDREN'S NOONDAY MEAL OR SUPPER

Cook together two cups canned tomatoes, a little pepper, salt, one tablespoon minced onion, one-fourth teaspoon celery seed, one whole clove for five minutes, then strain. Add to following:

Melt two tablespoons butter in double boiler, add four tablespoons flour, then blend well. Add two cups milk, salt and pepper to taste, cook, stirring all the time until it thickens, then add tomato juice mixture very slowly. Add one-eighth teaspoon soda to tomato juice just before it goes into the milk mixture. Heat thoroughly, and remove from fire at once.

Simmer two cups of baked beans with one quart water, one sliced onion, one sliced stalk of celery for half an hour. Press through sieve, add one cup canned tomatoes, salt and pepper and thicken with one and one-half tablespoons butter rubbed smooth with one and one-half tablespoons flour.

TEA DOUGHNUTS

Two eggs, six tablespoons sugar, three-fourths teaspoon salt, one-fourth teaspoon grated nutmeg, two tablespoons melted shortening, six tablespoons milk, two cups flour, three teaspoons baking powder.

Beat eggs until very light; add sugar, salt, nutmeg, shortening and milk; add flour and baking powder which have been sifted together; mix well. Drop by teaspoonfuls into deep hot fat and fry until brown. Drain well on unglazed paper and sprinkle with powdered sugar.

MOST SOAPS are compounded with a tallow base.

White King Granulated Soap is not.

Tallow clings to any texture with which it comes in contact. Being a fat that requires a fairly high degree of heat to melt it, it will cling to anything washed in water under the boiling point. Soaps of a tallow base must be used in boiling water in order to start to clean at all. Used in warm or cold water, these soaps do not clean effectively, they even cling to the fabrics, leaving them still unwashed at the finish.

White King Granulated Soap is made of pure, sweet, fresh vegetable and nut oils. These bland smooth oils do not cling to the fabrics. They allow the soap to penetrate and dissolve out the dirt without rubbing. Because of the low melting point of these oils, White King Granulated performs a better job in luke-warm and even cold water than most soaps do in boiling.

White King Granulated rinses freely, leaving no soapy smell, no grey or yellow look. Clothes iron easier since there is no soapy residue to turn yellow and sticky under the heat.

White King Granulated is all soap—it contains no water—no tallow base, no silicate of soda,* no free alkali. For immaculate cleanliness, for sweet smelling washings—for easier work, for banishment of boiling and rubbing—use White King Granulated—perfected for every household use.

HAWES AND PATTERSON TO OPPOSE BONUS BILL

Missouri Senators Explain Their Position in Letters to Post at Mexico.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
MEXICO, Mo., April 22. — The James Bledsoe Post of the American Legion, in response to telegrams to Missouri Representatives in Congress, urging support of legislation providing for cash payment of the soldiers' bonus, has received replies from Senators Harry B. Hawes of St. Louis and Roscoe C. Patterson, of Springfield, that they will oppose the legislation at this session.

"At this time I cannot vote for the bill you advocate," Senator Hawes wrote. "We are cutting in every branch of the Government. To be consistent, I cannot vote for an increase of more than a billion dollars in taxes, cut down all the expenses of the Government, and at the same time vote $225,000,000 for the payment of a cash bonus."

"I believe that if you knew the distress in which our Government is placed today, you would not advocate it. Therefore, I shall vote against full payment at this time. If our economic situation were such that the Government had the

KILLS SELF OVER REPRIMAND
Illinois Woman Marries Employer
Before Dying of Wound.
By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Ind., April 22.—Mrs. Daisy Marx Harbison, 19 years old, died yesterday from a wound she had inflicted upon herself because the man for whom she was keeping house—and to whom she subsequently was married—had reprimanded her.

She went to the barn and shot herself several days ago, she said, after Harbison rebuked her for scolding his 6-year-old daughter. The young housekeeper was brought to a hospital where she and Harbison were married Monday. She was the daughter of Andrew Marx, a Lawrenceville (Ill.) merchant.

BROTHER OF GRAND BANK SUSPECT IS CAUGHT IN CHASE

William Luger Found Hiding in Auto by Police Making Search After Burglary Alarm.

Police, notified there was a burglar in Brown's Business College, 2518 South Jefferson avenue,
at 1 o'clock this morning, arrived on the scene in time to see a man slide down a smoke stack from the roof of the three-story building to a two-story addition, then drop to the ground and dash into a used car establishment at 2520 South Jefferson.

Hiding in an automobile was a man, who says he is William Luger,
23 years old, 5111 Arsenal street.
He was seen at 2518A South Jefferson, where he was taken into custody. Nothing was taken from Brown's Business College, or from a drug store at 2530 South Jefferson, where a rear door had been forced open. The prisoner made no statement.

John Luger last month was sentenced to 15 years in prison for possession of burglar tools at Des Moines, Ia., after he and three other St. Louis gangsters were caught Dec. 12 while attempting to cut through a wall into the Capital City State Bank.

Joseph Wolf was held up in his shoe store, 4110 Easton avenue, last night by two men armed with revolvers, who took $40 from a cash drawer and an unestimated amount from a safe, which Wolf was forced to open.

URGES GOVERNMENT "FRILLS AND FURBELLOWS" BE ENDED

Elmer Donnell of Associated Industries Makes Appeal for Legislative Program.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
SEDALIA, Mo., April 22. — A challenge to Missouri industry to combine forces in a campaign today through a legislative program
in governmental economy eliminating "the frills and furbelows
and many of the luxuries of government, and get back to funda-mentals," was made here today by Elmer Donnell, vice president of the Associated Industries of Missouri.

Donnell's address was at a State-wide tax reduction session of representatives of the Associated Industries, chambers of commerce
and other civic organizations.
The meeting today formally launched a campaign to be carried into the next State Legislature by the Associated Industries on behalf of reduced governmental expenditures. Donnell was the keynote speaker and chairman of the meeting, which was called on suggestion of the Joplin Chamber of Commerce.

Approximately 50 civic leaders, representing chamber of commerce organizations from throughout the State as official delegates, attended the session.
The St. Louis Chamber of Commerce was one of the participating groups, represented by Scott R.
Dekins, secretary, and T. H. Rogers, director of Legislation and Tax Bureau.

Asphalt on Concrete Base Specified With Cost Estimated at $153,700.

"The Board of Public Service today recommended to the Board of Aldermen an ordinance for the repairing of Page boulevard from Bell avenue to the city limit in asphalt on a concrete base. The estimated cost is $153,700, one-fourth from bond issue funds and the remainder to be assessed against property owners.

About 150 property owners protested at a public hearing, but against the assessment of special benefit taxes at this time, and argued that, since the street was a major thoroughfare and used by buses, the full cost should come out of public funds. President Kinney said, however, that the board unanimously approved the ordinance, and that delay was out of the question, since the pavement, laid 27 years ago, already was beyond repair.

CALIFORNIA STORMS DAMAGE GRAPES AND FISHING BOATS
Many Vessels Cast on Beach; Hall in the Imperial Valley.

By the Associated Press.
LOS ANGELES, Cal., April 22.—Southern California's stormy weather of the last two days caused heavy damage to grape crops and a loss of at least $150,000 to owners of fishing craft.

Straw along the coastline from Santa Monica Bay points to Laguna Beach was the wreckage of four large fishing barges and at least 20 small craft. No lives were lost.

High winds wrecked a portion of a Santa Barbara oil wharf and destroyed several pumping wells.

Teacher Kidnaped by Robbers.
TOPEKA, Kan., April 22.—Miss Mary Alice Tilton, St. George (Kan.) school teacher, was released early today north of Oskaloosa by two men who kidnaped her last night after forcing her out of her car and robbing her.

CANDIDATES FOR LEGISLATURE
Jacob Shucart Files for Senate and Munro Roberts for House.

Declaration of candidacy for the Republican nomination for State Senator from the Thirty-third District was filed with the Election Board yesterday by Jacob Shucart, of 3123 Easton avenue. Munro Roberts, lawyer, 4940 Bannockburn avenue, filed for the Republican nomination for State Representative from the First District.

JAMES W. BYRNES, WET, OPENS SENATE DRIVE
Democratic Primary Contender Declares for Immediate Repeal of 18th Amendment.

"The rising tide of opposition to the eighteenth amendment has struck terror into the minds of velvet-footed politicians seeking office," declares James W. Byrnes, wet candidate for the Democratic nomination for United States Senator, in opening his campaign last night. He spoke at a Twenty-sixth Ward meeting, at Cabanne Branch Library.

Byrnes pointed out that he had opposed prohibition ever since its enactment, "even when it was not deemed respectable by many to do so."

"I have opposed the eighteenth amendment because in its essence it is immoral, depriving the individual of the natural right to select and choose, because it is a summary law which has brought about a revolution in our theory of government. It is a worship of the state, submerging the individual in the state. It has disregarded the teaching of temperance for the doctrine of force, a reversal of the pagan theory of government. It is merely a species of violence opposed to the intent and purpose of the Constitution."

"In its moral effects it is abysmal; it has substituted the beer flat and speak-easy for the saloon; it has debauched youth, prostituted public officials and financed crime until we are the most criminal nation on earth."

"Prohibition as such does not exist, never did exist, and never will exist. The law cannot be enforced—this by authority of the Wickham report. In its economic effects it is a calamity because it has added to our industry a tax sufficient to have paid the public debt from the possible revenues discarded. The loss of revenue through the eighteenth amendment has increased taxation on industry and property, national, state and city wide, and indirectly is responsible for large unemployment. The revenue lost, national, state and city, is at least $1,500,000,000—sufficient to pay one-third of the entire cost of the Federal Government."

"I propose to go in the Senate definitely committed to immediate repeal of the eighteenth amendment and to the immediate modification of the Volstead act, which may be done right now. I charge the wets are on trial to nominate a man positively committed to repeal of the amendment and modification of the Volstead act. I hold no hope for the day. I propose with constructive application of the revenue now going to bootleggers from the liquor traffic to reconstruct the entire economic fabric of the country."

Byrnes also discussed tariffs, taxation, reciprocal trade agreements and rail transportation.

SOCIETY OF EDITORS PROVIDES FOR SUSPENSION OF MEMBERS
Offender to Have Copy of Charges and Right of Appeal to Full Association.

WASHINGTON, April 22.—The American Society of Newspaper Editors today settled a controversy of long standing by adopting an amendment to the by-laws permitting the board of directors to suspend or expel members for due cause.

The amendment, however, provides that while a majority of the board may suspend a member, two-thirds of the full board membership must approve expulsion. It requires that notice be served on the offending member and that he be given a copy of the charges and a hearing. He also is given permission to appeal to the full membership at the next annual meeting.

The question of the right of the society to discipline members for violation of ethics arose several years ago when a movement to expel a Western member was dropped after he had threatened to sue individually each member of the society.

The Committee on Schools of Journalism, headed by Paul Belamy of the Cleveland Plain Dealer, submitted a report saying that the greatest progress was that announced by the Pulitzer School of Journalism toward recasting its curriculum.

The change, the committee said, would eliminate the drones and the unfit, and the result should be the production of a graduate who would be a valuable addition to a newspaper.

The editors were guests last night of President Hoover at the White House.

MOONEY REFUSED PARDON, DECLARES FIGHT WILL GO ON

Gov. Rolph Fourth California Executive to Decide Against Convicted Bomber of Parade in 1916.

SAN QUENTIN LIFER ASSAILS "FRAME-UP"

Wife, Sister and Aged Mother to "Carry On"—Case Not Settled Yet, Says Fremont Older.

By the Associated Press.
SACRAMENTO, Cal., April 22.—Gov. James Rolph Jr. has refused to pardon Tom Mooney, life-term convict in San Quentin Prison for the San Francisco Preparedness day parade bombing in 1916. Rolph was Mayor of San Francisco at the time.

The Governor's decision, made public in a 700-word statement late yesterday, was based on a report given him by legal advisers appointed last December after Rolph had been urged at a public hearing by a group of attorneys led by Mayor James J. Walker of New York.

The statement touched only generally on the points at issue. After briefly reviewing Mooney's efforts for freedom, since his original death sentence was commuted to life imprisonment by Gov. William D. Stephens, Gov. Rolph said his investigation had included study of all available documents and information, independent efforts to obtain other material and "as far as obtainable the history of the life of Thomas J. Mooney."

Records of Warren K. Billings' application before the State Supreme Court for a pardon recommendation also were considered. Gov. Rolph said, Billings, an associate of Mooney, and similarly convicted of the bombing, is a life term in Folsom Prison.

Governor's Statement.
Gov. Rolph declared the problem was considered "with open minds in a spirit of absolute fairness," and concluded:

"These facts, taken in conjunction with all of the other matters above mentioned... I have convinced myself that Thomas J. Mooney was guilty of the offense charged against him; that he was fully convicted by the jury before whom he was tried, and that the application made on his behalf for the pardon should be denied."

"For the purpose of the record and for the information of those who are interested in this application, it may be well to state that the case of Thomas J. Mooney has been presented to the Supreme Court of this State upon four occasions, and upon one occasion to the Supreme Court of the United States, on petition for writ of certiorari to review the judgment of the Supreme Court, and that three of my predecessors, Gov. William D. Stephens, Gov. Friend W. Richardson and Gov. C. C. Young, to each of whom an application was made by Thomas J. Mooney for a pardon, denied such application."

"In the bombing of persons were killed and injured. Their long fight again decided against them. Tom Mooney's wife, sister and aged mother to-day expressed determination to 'carry on.'"

The wife, Mrs. Rena Mooney, was at San Quentin prison yesterday as the news came that their 16-year fight for Mooney's freedom had failed again. She met her husband on his way back to his prison routine. Her arms about him, she urged him to be cheerful.

Matt J. Sullivan's Report.
The Governor left details of the crime and investigation to a 125-page report submitted by the Governor's chief adviser, Matt J. Sullivan, former California Supreme Court Justice.

Sullivan's report further stated, "Prof. Einstein, the famous scientist, has joined the army of those protesting against the further imprisonment of Mooney and Billings," and added: "Unfortunately, this good man and great scientist knows as much about Mooney and Billings and the case against each of them as I know."

"They know about Einstein's inexpressible theory of relativity," Mayor Walker's plea at the hearing in San Francisco last December was referred to as "eloquent misapplied."

Regarding the plea made by Walker and other attorneys, the report concluded:

"But we believe, however, that the past life of Mooney, his record as a dynamiter, his public and private utterances in favor of anarchy and revolution, his publication of the 'Revolt' in San Francisco paper (another publication), and the 'Blast'."

Varied Comment: Mooney Says 'Fights Will Go On.' Gov. Rolph's decision, but Mooney and his wife, sister and aged mother, declared the fight will go on.

"Evidence Guilty," Dec Denounces

By the Associated Press.
SACRAMENTO, Cal., April 22.—The California Supreme Court today refused to grant a writ of habeas corpus to Tom Mooney, life-term convict in San Quentin Prison for the San Francisco Preparedness day parade bombing in 1916. Rolph was Mayor of San Francisco at the time.

The testimony of Mooney's wife, sister and aged mother, declared the fight will go on.

The report quoted Sullivan's report, which said Mooney was guilty of the offense charged against him; that he was fully convicted by the jury before whom he was tried, and that the application made on his behalf for the pardon should be denied.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., April 22.— Matt J. Sullivan, former Justice of the California Supreme Court, who was chief adviser of Gov. Ralph in the Thomas J. Mooney case, issued a 125-page report on it. This report in detail the reasons why a pardon
was refused to Mooney.Sullivan's report recited the life history of Mooney and Warren K.
Billings, their criminal record, Billings' relations with Mooney prior to the Preparedness Day parade,
and their connection with the crime
for which they were convicted.The report quoted many extracts from letters and from the "Blat," testimony the report said:"We do not here pass upon the truth or falsity of Oxman's testimony given at the trial of Mooney,

but whether true or false the other evidence in the case suffices to sustain the verdict of guilty."As for McDonald's testimony the report recalled that he testified at four different trials connecting Mooney and Billings with the explosion of which they were convicted,
and then swore to an affidavit
in which he confessed he was guilty of perjury.The affidavit signed by him and

TO RESTORE 1918
INCOME TAX RATEMillionaire Would Put Heavy Levy on Rich,
Raise $486,000,000 More Than in House BillBy RAYMOND P. BRANDT,
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.WASHINGTON, April 22.—Senator Couzens, the unorthodox multi-millionaire Republican from Michigan, is preparing amendments to the pending billion dollar tax bill to restore the 1918 wartime individual income tax rates and to eliminate many of the excise taxes approved by the House.He said today that he would first offer his plan to the Senate Finance Committee which is now
writing the bill in executive session, and later lead the fight on the floor for its adoption.Couzens also may propose an increase in the tax on net income of corporations but he has not decided definitely on this.The significant fact about the 1918 rates, which Senator Couzens would apply, is their universality but most of the revenue they would bring in would come from incomes between $5000 and $100,- 000.Congressional experts have calculated that even after eliminating many of the excise taxes the Couzens plan would provide $486,- 000,000 more revenue than the House bill, which would permit
the balancing of the budget
on July 1, 1932.Under the Couzens' amendment, exemptions would be reduced to $1000 for single persons and $2000
for married persons, with $200 additional for each dependent. Under the 1918 law the normal rate was 4 per cent on the first $4000 of income in excess of the exemptions, and 8 per cent on the balance. The Couzens plan would permit the balancing of the budget
on July 1, 1932.The surtax started at 1 per cent
on taxable income between $5000
and $6000 and rose 1 per cent with each $5000 of added income up to $100,000. The surtax on the last $2000 of the latter amount was 48
per cent.On incomes in excess of $100,000
the surtax rates were as follows:
$100,000 to $150,000, 52 per cent;
$150,000 to $200,000, 56 per cent;
$200,000 to $300,000, 60 per cent;
$300,000 to $500,000, 63 per cent;
$500,000 to $1,000,000, 64 per cent;
in excess of $1,000,000, 65 per cent.These were the rates actually paid between 1918 and 1924, and Senator Couzens insists that the emergency today is at least equal to that of the war period. "To the extent that there is no longer any money in the higher brackets, Couzens counters that it would be necessary to put these rates into effect to justify the proposed increase in rates on incomes between $5000 and $100,000, from which he expects to get the bulk of the revenue. Couzens makes the same argument about the reduction of the exemptions."Couzens calculates that his plan would cause 2,200,000 persons with
incomes between $2000 and $3000
to pay an average tax of $17.47, or a total of approximately $38,000,- 000. The average tax on incomes between $3000 and $5000, Couzens
says, would be about $87.In making all his estimates, Couzens, in the interest of conservatism, lopped off 10 per cent from the figures supplied by the tax experts. Under this plan, he says, the Government would have a surplus of $4,000,000 on July 1, next year.Some Taxes He'd Omit.
Another Couzens amendment would wipe out entirely the proposed taxes on automobiles, oil,
malt and wort, telephone and telegraph messages, real estate conveyances, cosmetics, furs, sporting goods, candy, soft drinks, matches,
chewing gum, radios, mechanical refrigerators, but would retain the House provisions relating to theater admissions, stock transfers and increased letter postage.Members of the Finance Committee today expressed the belief that the arguments both in the committee's executive sessions and on the floor of the Senate would range between the sales tax proposals of the Smoot-Watson-Reed old guard combination and the Couzens plan.
The chances favor a compromise somewhere between the two extremes. Among the Democrats on posals.By the Associated Press.

$20,000 TO IMPROVE MUNICIPAL THEATER

New Concrete Walks Laid in Preparation for Opening of Season.

Concrete walks and other improvements to the Municipal Theater costing $20,000 are being completed in preparation for the opening of the 1932 season of the Municipal Opera June 6.

A broad concrete walk has been laid from the lower parking lot to the main gate of the theater, taking the place of a cinder path there formerly.

At the front of the theater the concrete walk has been extended to the full width of the pergola shelter.

Walks the full width of the pergola lead up to the theater proper on both sides. A new concrete walk has been laid to the stage entrance, and the aisles of the theater have received a new rough finish.

Pergola roofs have been repaired and the pergola walk has been repainted. The last two rows of temporary seats have been replaced with permanent chairs.

Backstage virtually every foot of the lot has been covered with concrete. A room has been excavated beneath the left side of stage for additional workshops and storerooms. The bridge across the River des Peres from the stage to the dressing rooms has been repaired.

Other improvements include repairs to the roof of the rehearsal hall, new roofs on the costume studios and dressing rooms and shower baths for the use of the chorus.

All profits of the Municipal Opera are expended on improvements of the theater.

PARAMOUNT-PUBLIC CUTS SALARIES FOR THIRD TIME

Latest Reduction of 5 Per Cent to Apply to All Employees of Amusement Concern.

NEW YORK, April 22.—Employees of the Paramount-Public Corporation, one of the country's largest moving picture concerns, were informed today of another cut in their salaries and also that a restriction on the number of weeks without pay would be enforced this summer.

Two previous reductions amounting to around 20 per cent have been taken by Paramount workers during recent months. These cuts applied to salaries in excess of $50 weekly. The reduction announced today is 5 per cent of the first $10 of all salaries and affects every employee.

Income of the corporation, of which Adolf Zukor is president, totaled $5,345,488, or $2.01 a share, in 1931, against $18,381,178, or $5.99 a share in the previous year. Dividends of 2 1/2 per cent in stock were paid on the common shares after June 1, 1931, last year, but these were discontinued with the quarter ending March 31, last.

WAR MINISTER OF JAPAN DEFIES LEAGUE, SOVIET

The activities of the League when Article XV of the covenant is applied in Manchuria is an open secret, although it has not been officially announced. Anti-League forces in Japan are insisting that the same policy be applied to the attempts of the Committee of Nine, to direct the course of the negotiations at Shanghai.

A dispatch to the Rengo News Agency from Harbin, Manchuria, says Japanese army officers arrested the Russian station master of the Chinese Eastern Railway at Jiamusi on a charge that he obstructed Japanese troop movements. In co-operation with Chinese insurgents.

Russian authorities at Harbin defended the station master's release. A Japanese brigade under Major General Mural arrived at Jiamusi yesterday, it says, and part of it clashed today with Chinese insurgents near Wukimihio, west of Jiamusi. The Japanese are reported to have launched an offensive against the Chinese in that region, it is reported.

Russian Trade Unions Pledge Defense of Nation.

MOSCOW, April 22.—The 17,000 members of the Soviet trade unions stood pledged today to defend their country if need be, in the ninth All-Union Congress of the trade unions made the pledge for its members last night, and sending greetings to the Red Army and to Klement E. Voroshilov, War and Navy Commissar, called increased watchfulness, especially in the Far East, against the danger of a bourgeois invasion.

It also obligated itself to extend military preparedness to the protection of the peasants, with a view to enlarging the already comprehensive "patronage" of the Red Army.

A dispatch to the Tass News Agency from Peiping says reports that from Harbin, Manchuria, are that an uncovered store of arms, bombs and ammunition in a Chinese restaurant frequented by Russian "white guards."

Another dispatch says a "white guard" mob, made up of former employees of the Eastern Railway, surrounded the Soviet office of the railroad April 18 and 19 members of the mob entered the building. The incident occurred, it adds, after Manchurian authorities assured Russian officials there would be no more such disturbances.

WASHINGTON U. GIVES 75TH BIRTHDAY PARTY

Anniversary Celebrated With Convocation of Students to Hear Addresses.

Washington University celebrated today the seventy-fifth anniversary of its inauguration. There was a general convocation of students and faculty in Graham Memorial chapel this morning.

On April 22, 1857, Edward Everett, at the height of his fame as orator and statesman, journeyed here to deliver the inaugural address. His audience included many distinguished St. Louisans. Today, Harry Jones, a junior in the law school and recent winner of the Missouri literary oratorical contest, repeated portions of Everett's speech.

Jacob M. Lashly, an alumnus of the law school, was the principal speaker on today's program. Chancellor Throp introduced Charles Freeman, president of the student body, who presided. His successor, elected yesterday, was presented. Students who participated in major campus activities during the year were awarded certificates.

The university was chartered by the State in 1853. Its incorporation met for the first time the following year and it was not until 1857 that the institution was ready to function as a university. Today's celebration was called the Eliot program, in honor of the Rev. William Greenleaf Eliot, founder and first chancellor of the university.

Last night university officials participated in a banquet at the Downtown Y. M. C. A., given by the University Y. M. C. A., at which 200 boys who will be graduated from St. Louis and St. Louis County high schools next June were guests. The youths were taken afterwards to the opening performance of the annual musical comedy of the Quadrangle Club at the American

The university canceled its anniversary this year with the bicentennial of the birth of George Washington, for whom it was named.

QUADRANGLE CLUB IN FAST MUSICAL COMEDY

Washington University Students Present "Look Who's Here" At American Theater.

LOOK WHO'S HERE, a musical comedy by Coleen, Jany and Ted Williams, presented by the Quadrangle Club of Washington University with the following cast:

Constance Markham Louise La Rue
Roger Gregory James Parker
Peggy Markham Georgia Flynn
Ferial Stonington Marvin E. Mueller
St. Charles Markham Bernard O'Brien
Arthur Moore
Lady Susanne Markham Louise Osterberg
Florida Jean Bronkcamp
Phineas O'Reardon Joe Ledbetter
A. Deaf Guide Richard Krieh
Francisco William C. O'Brien
John William C. O'Brien

THE Quadrangle Club of Washington University last night presented its annual musical comedy at the American Theater as part of the seventy-fifth anniversary festivities celebrating the founding of the university. This year's musical play is called "Look Who's Here," and, as usual, was written, produced and acted by the student body and one or two old grads. The place, in two acts and eight scenes, with the book by Carleton S. Hadley and music by Ted Williams, is one of the best offerings of the Quadrangle Club. With a double romance story laid in Spain and a number of catchy tunes the play moved rapidly and entertainingly.

It was the acting of the student principals and the singing and dancing of a very pretty chorus, however, which established the piece most firmly as a success. Jean Bronkcamp, in the leading role of Florida, a Spanish girl, has a fine voice and her solos and a duet or two with James Parker, as was the work of Lilla Baumann and Phil Gelzer in an interpolated tango but all of the dancing numbers were tremendously helped by the girls of the chorus who showed great ability and the effect of considerable training in their stepping. The comedy was furnished by Joe Ledbetter, president of the Quadrangle Club, as a tourist guide and by Marvin Mueller, who played a typical musical comedy Englishman. William Bryan, in the leading romantic role, displayed a nice voice.

Among the best of the musical numbers were "Let's Slip Away," "Look Who's Here," "I'm That Way About You," "Go Into Your Dance," and "Back to Boston." The piece will be repeated at the American this evening and again tomorrow night.

MOVIE STARS as a Masseuse Sees Them

Sylvia, internationally famed masseuse and beauty expert, has seen too much of movie stars to have any illusions about them. Most of the screen favorites of recent years, including Gloria Swanson, Constance Bennett, Norma Shearer, Ruth Chatterton, Ina Claire, Ronald Colman and Ramon Novarro, have come to her to be pounded and pummeled.

In an amazingly frank series of stories, Sylvia tells what she knows of the feuds and follies of Hollywood. Her audacious, humorous revelations will be published

NEW YORK, April 22.—The stock market fell back abruptly in light trading today. Yesterday's upturn was canceled, as leaders lost about 1 to 5 points, but the day was one of the duller of the year, with a turnover of less than a million shares. The closing tone was weak.

Final prices were around the day's lowest, although the market steadied somewhat during the afternoon. The disclosure in the Washington hearing that Percy Rockefeller had switched to the 1929-32 decline in the rule, long side of which Rockefeller failed to have a bullish influence. Professional traders appeared covered by the investigation, and the public stuck to the sidelines, leaving the market a thin affair.

Weak features included U. S. Steel, American Can, Standard of New Jersey, Du Pont, Air Reduction and American Telephone, off 2 to 4 points to new lows for the 1929-32 decline in the rule.

A feature of the foreign exchange markets was a sharp break in the French franc, recently so strong at the expense of the dollar. Cables were quoted at 3.34 cents, or below the point at which gold could be profitably taken from New York by Paris.

Weekly Bank Statement.
The weekly bank statement showed further expansion of the credit expansion program. The fact that the expected reduction in the New York discount rate failed to materialize, however, while not regarded as important in banking quarters, may have contributed to the quick profit-taking. Furthermore, the slight gain of $2,000,000 in currency in circulation made speculators for the rise cautious. Some of the early selling looked like further liquidation of collateral loans, and when such selling appears, speculators for the rise are quick to retire.

The most encouraging aspect of the bank statements was the gain of $47,000,000 in "other," or commercial loans, shown in the New York member banks. This is the first increase in commercial loans in some weeks. The reserve system continued its open market operations, adding $25,000,000 to its holdings of United States Government securities. The brokers loan statement seemed to indicate, furthermore, that money was being driven out of the New York market back into the interior where it is needed. Although there was a net increase in brokers' loans of $19,000,000, out of town banks cut down their loans to brokers here by $15,000,000.

The monthly report of cigarette production, showing a substantial drop, may have influenced some selling of tobacco stocks.

IRISH FACTIONS IN CONFLICT OVER DATE OF ALLEGIANCE

Congress today has been told that the Irish people in the United States are divided into two factions over the date of their allegiance to the United States.

The first faction, which is the majority, claims that the date of their allegiance is the date of the signing of the Declaration of Independence in 1776. The second faction, which is the minority, claims that the date of their allegiance is the date of the signing of the Constitution in 1787.

The Strange Story of A Citizen of Nowhere

CHAPTER FIVE

MINUTE later Cordova was shuffling across the dewy lawn in his bedroom slippers. Deborah was waiting for him at the dock. She led him into the bathhouse, and pointed out a dressing room.

"I put three suits in there," she said. "One of them ought to fit."

The first one did, and she surveyed him approvingly as he joined her on the dock.

"You're huskier than I thought," she commented. "Swim out there."

"There" was an inlet 50 yards from shore. She waited for no reply, but dived neatly into the lake. Cordova followed. The water was too cold to permit that lazy floating that he enjoyed; one must move violently to get warm, and he was puffing as they reached the little island.

Deborah curled herself up on a little stretch of sandy beach.

"Well, are you going to be Mayor of New York?" she asked.

Cordova stared at her.

"Little girls," he said, "shouldn't listen at doors and then ask questions."

"Young men," she returned, placidly, "shouldn't consider 28 an advanced age. And if they were 58 they shouldn't be rude."

"Apology offered," said Cordova.

"Apology accepted," said the girl with reservations.

"Such as?" he asked.

"They aren't important," she evaded. "And you haven't answered my question."

"How can I?" he protested.

"There are several hundred thousand voters to be considered."

"Huh," scoffed the girl. "Uncle Dan has them when he wants them. Yes, you're going to Mayor, I guess."

"You sound as though you didn't like the idea," he said.

She shrugged her shoulders, and glancing drops of water fell to the white sand.

"I didn't mean to sound that way. I think it's swell. You can greet channel swimmers and golf champions, can't you think it's swell at all?" he said.

"Oh, but I do," she said. "Only—whose Mayor will you be?"

"What do you mean by that?" he demanded.

"Exactly what I asked. Will you be your own Mayor or Uncle Dan's Mayor?"

"Wouldn't you want me to be Mr. Carmichael's Mayor?" he asked.

"Now, please don't talk to me as though I were rompers," she said. "I'm 18—girls are frequently as old, mentally, as men of 28. Ever hear that?"

"It seems to me I heard a woman say so once," retorted Cordova. She smiled impishly.

"Always believe what women tell you," she said. "Well, whose Mayor are you going to be?"

"The people's," he replied.

SHE looked at him gravely.

"You know," she said, "I don't think you mean that."

"Do you think you're quite fair to your uncle?" he demanded sternly.

"Oh, I might have known you'd not get what I was driving at," she almost moaned. "I—I guess I'm young, after all. I don't seem able to put things the way I want to put them. Uncle is—well, he's swell. No one could be finer than him. But he has his own way—always. Sometimes he likes a man and sometimes he buys him. And he's always top dog. And I—somehow I didn't want you to let any one be top dog around you."

"Nobody is," said Cordova grimly.

"I'm glad," she said. "Don't think I'm not for uncle. I think he's wonderful. Only—oh, I've wanted to politics since I was a member. I knew why uncle sent for you. I didn't have to listen behind any door, Mr. Cordova."

"I thought my apology had been accepted," he smiled.

"All right. But sometimes people apologize when they think they're right. Uncle told me why he was sending for you. And that's all right. He has power, and has a right to use his power legitimately. I've never known him to use it otherwise. I don't think he would."

"But what's all right for one man to do is sometimes wrong for another man to permit him to do. I mean—uncle might dictate to a man holding office. His motives might be of the highest. I think they always are. But the other man is the officeholder; he ought not let any one dictate to him. He should do only what he thinks is right. Do you understand now?"

"I understand," said Cordova. "That you're paying me the very high compliment of hoping that I am strong as well as honest."

"That's exactly what I said, rising. 'Only—I didn't mean it as a compliment. I meant it—I don't know exactly how I meant it. It seems to me that this is a very heavy conversation to have before breakfast, don't you think?'"

"I apologize again; it's completely my fault."

"Now, you're making fun of me. But I guess I deserve it. There's Del."

She didn't need to point out to Cordova the radiant figure that was crossing the lawn. He rose to his feet and started for the water. The young girl with him grimaced slightly, then shrugged as imperceptibly. She stood ankle deep beside him.

The Strange Story of A Citizen of Nowhere

A JAPANESE in America and an American in Japan, This Daughter of a Mixed Marriage Was a Woman Without a Country.

KATHLEEN TANAGAWA is no longer bothered by a lack of nationality. She is now an unquestioned American, for she is married to Francis Reed Eldridge, an American, and has four American children, and finds that in the cosmopolitan atmosphere of New York and Washington, her Eurasian descent is not considered, and usually not even known unless she tells of it. Her position is unquestioned, for Eldridge is chief of the Far Eastern division of the Bureau of Foreign Affairs, and usually not even known unless she tells of it. Her position is unquestioned, for Eldridge is chief of the Far Eastern division of the Bureau of Foreign Affairs, and usually not even known unless she tells of it.

It was chiefly during her childhood and youth, spent partly in America and partly in Japan, that she found her mixed parentage troublesome, as she relates in her autobiography, "Holy Prayers in a Horse's Ear," published by Ray Long and Richard S. Smith, New York. The title of the book she chose because of her own futile "holy prayers in horse's ear," in other words, of her efforts to adapt herself to the psychology, the thoughts and customs, of two widely different races—and to their attitude toward her.

MRS. ELDRIDGE's mother never realized the complications involved, both for herself and her child, when she married Sanjo Tanagawa, who had come to America when 11 years old, to be educated. He was the eldest son of an aristocratic Japanese family, but attended the public schools of Chicago, to a high school he met Frank Adams, Mrs. Eldridge's uncle, and was introduced to the Adams family, including Kate, later his wife.

When Kate Adams fell in love with Sanjo almost at once, here was not a romantic school girl infatuation. It was a love sufficient strong to withstand the obstacles her parents interposed, to say nothing of the many years of married life in Japan.

As soon as the Adams family perceived that Kate and Sanjo were in love, they packed her off to America. For a time Sanjo did "some sort of work," and then he and Kate opened a Japanese shop in Cape May, N. J. There Kathleen was born, Sept. 13, 1892.

When Kathleen was a child, her grandfather died, and her parents were asked to forgive, and live with her grandmother. The request was granted, but the consequences were not pleasant for the little Japanese-American girl. For she was guilty of youthful brashness. But he was glad that it had been repeated, now that he saw the older man's reception of his independence. And he was glad for something else; for a moment he had been fearful of losing Carmichael's favor. Thus early in his ambitions he was fearful lest they be not realized. Well, it was good to be contented with his own weaknesses. Already ambition had gained such a clutch upon him that he was ready to temporize. But never again. A weakness discovered is a weakness half conquered. He would complete the conquest.

"I'm going to try that west coast," said the Senator, suddenly. "Want to go along, Cordova?"

"I'm not much of a fisherman," said the young man. "And I must be in New York tomorrow morning."

"Plenty of time. You'll have to leave here right after lunch, though. Well, you won't think I'm rude if I cast a few flies?"

"I'd be glad if I kept you from your sport," said Cordova.

The party broke up right after breakfast, the three older men departing in canoes for the fishing ground. Deborah, at the last moment, decided to go with them, and Cordova was left alone with the girl who fascinated him.

"Tennis?" she suggested. "I can find you shoes and flannels, I think."

"Do you want to?" he asked.

"Not particularly. I thought you might wish—"

"I'd rather just—well, just talk to you," he said. "I don't want to entertain me?" she asked.

He colored.

"I'll try," she said.

"Begin," he said.

Returned almost before Cordova realized it. He had spent the most enchanting morning of his life. Once again it seemed to him that he had done most the talking, but even so—she hadn't seemed to mind. And she had sung for him, accompanying herself on an accordion. And they had gone out in a canoe.

They were going to "live in the flowery kingdom, in beautiful lacquered houses" as the little 13-year-old child anticipated it.

It was a sad disappointment. Japan she found even more alien than America, for she could not even speak the language! Neither she nor her mother, who insisted on adopting Japanese modes of life, could reconcile themselves to the customs and inconveniences. Mrs. Eldridge relates how they fled precipitately, scandalized, on encountering some coolies naked from the waist up. Kathleen soon lost her belief in her own Orientalism; she was obviously, by nature and training, a child of the Occident.

Her father seemed to understand the racial differences very well, for at first opposing the wearing of Japanese apparel by his wife and daughter, he finally took a house in the residential colony of the Europeans in Yokohama. There, surrounded by representatives of all nations, and by others who had contracted interracial marriages, they enjoyed extensive social contacts, and a high social rating, for her father held a "post."

Toward the close of 1918 the Eldridges moved to Washington, Charles Canyon, 76, 5800 Arsenal, and Richard J. Plod, 49, 5241 S. 7th, John M. Cotterell, 71, 3400 S. MRS. ELDRIDGE and her eldest son.

where she was less of a novelty than in the colony found difficulty in reconciling the blend of Oriental and Occidental morals, especially in cases where interracial marriage had been contracted under Japanese customs, and not under American. There could be no trouble for the Sanjo Tanagawas on that score, since their marriage was thoroughly American, but:

"My father, who was a thorough gentleman, even to the point of being noble over his honorableness, was asked by this super-religious group of ardent Christians, not to attend services with mother and me, because he was native."

Her father answered with a letter to the minister in which he said he understood the situation, as the clergy had their position to hold and their parish to consider, just as he had his own business. And mother and daughter continued to attend the church.

When Kathleen married Eldridge, who at the time was a student interpreter at the American Embassy in Tokyo, it was necessary to begin the arrangements weeks ahead, because of the bride's parentage. That adjusted, Mr. and Mrs. Eldridge returned to America—her parents remained in Japan—and took up their residence in Georgia, in Columbia and Augusta.

There Mrs. Eldridge was again a curiosity, and found that most people had ideas about her: that she was Oriental, and should be able to elucidate the Oriental viewpoint—of which she knew no more than they; that she was necessarily dainty and "cute" because Japanese, although she is quite tall for a woman. The anthropologists she found the least obnoxious, because their examinations were not psychological, but limited to the "shape of my nose and the quality of my hair," and because they recognized that mixed races have always existed.

There Mrs. Eldridge was again a curiosity, and found that most people had ideas about her: that she was Oriental, and should be able to elucidate the Oriental viewpoint—of which she knew no more than they; that she was necessarily dainty and "cute" because Japanese, although she is quite tall for a woman. The anthropologists she found the least obnoxious, because their examinations were not psychological, but limited to the "shape of my nose and the quality of my hair," and because they recognized that mixed races have always existed.

Hydrocephalus

THE brain is a hollow organ, its various parts penetrated by a system of channels called ventricles which are connected together and lead into the spinal canal, the channel passing through the entire length of the spinal cord. The spaces within the brain and spinal cord are filled with a watery substance called cerebrospinal fluid. This fluid circulates both within and about the brain is interwoven with and hydrocephalus, popularly known as a water on the brain, results.

There are several varieties of hydrocephalus classified according to whether the difficulty is in the circulation of the fluid within or outside of the brain, and whether the condition is congenital, or present at the time of birth, or is acquired.

In the most serious type, the congenital, the brain is born with an improperly developed system of brain spaces. Cerebral fluid accumulates and cannot escape, or escapes too slowly.

The result is that the brain tissue and the skull bones are subjected to pressure. The head becomes grotesquely enlarged. Mental development is seriously hampered, and body function thereby profoundly disturbed.

The causes for congenital hydrocephalus are still undetermined. Such afflicted children may be born of absolutely healthy parents and in families in which all other children are educated and normal. Families with several hydrocephalus children, however, are recorded.

The largest number of hydrocephalus children succumb because of the condition, but some few live for years and are educated, in which such surviving children have normal mental development.

Leather ties are a new spring fad. As its contribution to masculine spring styles Paris has evolved a new four-in-hand, one with a long strip of finely finished kid and left with unsewn edges, to wear with sports clothes.

Beige-brown is a favorite color, while green, blue and burnt orange are also seen.

The New Budget.

Don't let your first experience with a household budget discourage you. It is a new and exciting thing. First budgets are always experiments and will need a great many "try-outs" before entirely successful. Struggle on, it is worth it, as you will find out.

MY DEAR MRS. CARR: I hope you will give me some of your kindly advice. I am maddly in love with a young man four years my junior. He wants me to get married and keep it secret four years as he is still going to law school three nights a week and his family are in very straitened circumstances at present.

Don't want to seem selfish, but don't you think he has given his family help long enough? One other son left to get married and the other doesn't turn in all his money when he does work, which isn't often. His mother is a darling, has to work to help out, and I would like to help her. Can you see any harm in my paying the way to places of amusement? I have a good income from a business of my own. This boy turns in every cent he earns, not because he is compelled to, but he wants to see them out of debt.

Please don't think I'm silly. I simply must do something. I get so blue I have to cry. I would use to call me the girl with the sweet disposition. I have oodles of friends and chances to go out but simply can't enjoy nothing without this boy. I have been financially several times. Should I stop that? May I come again, Mrs. Carr? "FUNNY FACE."

In the circumstances, I do not see why you could not marry, but for keeping it secret, that is another matter. It is not a matter of doing—long. It will mean that you will have to assume more responsibility, but if you are sure it is worth it to you, why—you are old enough to know your own mind.

Of course, come again, if you care to.

DEAR MRS. CARR: We have read the letter of D. and T. Parson and liked the idea; but we wouldn't be able to join their baseball team, as we live too far from there. We wish to make a club of our own, composed of 12 members. All those who wish to play or join this club may write to John G. Brito, 3501 Easton avenue. The requirements to join this club are as follows: He must be at least one year old; he must be between the ages of 14 and 18; he must live in the vicinity of the address given; on his first letter he must give name and address; he must be thoroughly interested in baseball, and he must name what position he wishes to play.

DEAR MRS. CARR: Three months ago I met a boy of fine character and high ideals, but perfectly impossible manners. The last are so noticeable that my parents will not allow me to make any more dates with him. As an example, when he calls to take me out, he comes right on into the

SAYS HE HIRED KRATKY TO GO TO MAYOR ABOUT BILL

L. C. Wagoner Says He Engaged Lawyer for Fear Spot Zoning Measure Would Be Vetted.

UNDERTAKER EXPECTS TO PAY $750 FEE

Attorney Denies He Was Employed to Aid in Having Mortuary Allowed in Residence District.

An undertaker, who had the zoning law amended recently to legalize his establishment, told a Post-Dispatch reporter yesterday that he expected to pay $750 to Robert J. Kratky, Republican politician, for appearing as an attorney before Mayor Miller in behalf of the bill. Kratky, who managed the Mayor's first political campaign, today denied he had taken such employment and said he did not expect to receive a fee.

The Mayor said today that Kratky had not talked to him about the bill and that he had "told Bob not to have anything to do with that kind of stuff."

Mayor Miller signed the bill last Tuesday. It will become effective May 15, changing the southwest corner of Lafayette avenue and Nicholson place from a multiple dwelling zone, where a mortuary is not permitted, to a commercial zone. An old residence on this lot has been used since January by the Wagoner-Cotrell Undertakers.

Leslie C. Wagoner, a partner in this firm, was employed by a near-undertaker on Lafayette until Jan. 3. He bought this house, he related yesterday, not knowing a new mortuary could not be established in the zone, and spent $2000 in renovating it. Then Building Commissioner Aegerter notified him the zoning law was being violated.

Tells of Deal With Kratky. "When I inquired," Wagoner went on, "Aegerter suggested I get an injunction to protect myself. But I saw Alderman Reinhardt and he said the zoning amendment introduced. Everybody thought it was costing me a lot of money, but it cost me just seven 6-cent cigars, when the aldermanic Legislation Committee looked at the plan. After the bill was passed by the Board of Aldermen on April 1 by a vote of 15 to 13 I heard rumors the Mayor might veto it and I got nervous. Lots of people told me I ought to get someone close to the Mayor. My friend, Dr. John C. Cornell of 3425 Christy boulevard, suggested seeing Kratky.

"Last Friday (April 15), accompanied by Dr. Cornell, I saw Kratky, who said: 'Get me right; I'm not selling influence, because I haven't any. I'm a lawyer. Of course, I'm a friend of the Mayor's and he usually does what I ask. I've been criticized in these zoning cases. I'll have to have a fee.' I thought Kratky would ask for $50 or maybe as much as $200. He asked for $1000.

"I said I couldn't pay that much, but I would just have to let him thing go. Kratky said: 'In a Winnebago street zoning case I was criticised very severely. The newspapers were printing stories, wanting to know who caused a change there, and I said I did. I've got to have a fee. You pay me $500 when the bill is signed and $250 more whenever you can get it together, and I'll knock off the other $250.'"

"I thought I'd have to move if the bill wasn't signed, and it would cost me a lot of money to fight the zoning law in court. Then Kratky said: 'Do you want me to talk to the Mayor about it?' I replied, 'Yes, right away.' Kratky said, 'I'll see him this afternoon.' Told That Mayor Would Sign. "Not hearing from Kratky after Monday and he said, 'The Mayor will sign the bill at 4 p. m. today.' Last Tuesday noon my partner, Scott A. Cotrell received a telephone call. A voice said: 'This is Robert J. Kratky. Tell Mr. Wagoner the Mayor signed that bill this morning.'"

The Mayor did sign the bill last Tuesday. Wagoner, who had not verified that fact when he talked to a Post-Dispatch reporter yesterday, said he had received no request yet from Kratky to pay the fee, but expected to pay it. Dr. Cornell told a reporter he had pointed out to Wagoner that Wagoner, as a Republican who had supported Mayor Miller, could properly make a request of Kratky. The conversation between Wagoner and Kratky, as related by Wagoner, was confirmed by Dr. Cornell, who added that he had not
